Summary: Frisk wanted to save everyone in the underground, and they thought they had, but Asriel told them about Chara, the first human. Now, Frisk is determined to save Chara, no matter the costs. Can Frisk truly save Chara? Or will they see that maybe it was a lost cause? (Frisk and Chara are both female)

1. Chapter 1: In The Beginning

_Determination._ Frisk looked at her text box and saw that word, the only word that has gotten her through their adventure thus forth. She were on a mission to save everyone in the underground, and Frisk would achieve this goal any way they possibly could.

At first, it seemed they could never SAVE everyone, there was always that one that Frisk could never get out of their mind, Chara. She had never actually met Chara before, but had only heard of their name through Asriel, her adoptive mother and father's son. Whenever Toriel and Asgore dropped off Asriel at Sans and Papyrus' house where Frisk lived, Asriel would talk to them about Chara.

He would talk about how Chara hated humanity, and he eventually told Frisk about their plan to destroy it, and how he couldn't go through with it. Frisk stopped moving through Hotland and thought about Asriel.

"Why did I let Asriel talk me into doing this?" Frisk thought. "There has to be another way to SAVE Chara other than... This."

Frisk looked at her hands, covered in a white dust, clearly visible on their tan skin. Frisk began to cry, as they had done many times during this run.

"Oh god! I'm such a coward, I can't go through with this!" Frisk screamed out loud. But something made her move, made her remember their mission, made her think, "I have to SAVE Chara, no matter what."

**_*Thinking about saving everyone fills you with DETERMINATION.*_**

Frisk looked in front of them to see Sans, the loveable joking skeleton she once called friend. Frisk started to get tears in her eyes again.

"what's wrong kiddo?" Sans said, there seemed to be a hint of... concern in his voice.

"..I can't do this.." Frisk barely whispers.

"what, after all that killing without mercy, and now you act innocent and scared? you've got a sick sense of humor kid." Sans' left eye socket began to glow blue.

>Sans launched a barrage of bones at Frisk, which she barely dodged, still with tears in her eyes. Sans brought forth a Gaster Blaster and proceeded to shoot Frisk, landing a direct blow. Frisk's HP shot down low, quickly. She couldn't take much more. Quickly, Frisk hit the [FIGHT] option and tried slicing at Sans, when he dodged perfectly.

"Wh-what?" Frisk said out loud.

"what? you think i'm just gonna stand there and take it?" Sans said looking straight at Frisk.

Sans launched another bone attack hitting Frisk, sending their HP to 1/99. Frisk couldn't see straight, and tried to reach for the [FIGHT] option, but was quickly intercepted by Sans grabbing their wrist.

"normally i prefer to fight fairly, but i'll make an exception for you," he said.

Frisk looked at Sans with wide eyes and saw Sans summon a Gaster Blaster behind him. Frisk knew this is where they were gonna have to RESET, but before they could, they heard Sans chuckle softly.

"kid.. before i, well, you know," he gestured towards the Blaster. "you gotta at least tell me."

Frisk looked at Sans, not sure what to expect.

"why kid? why'd you do it? everyone was so happy, and, i thought you were too. what did we do to deserve this?" He started to cry.

"cause... cause if this is all one big joke, i'm not laughing! i don't think this is funny in any way, frisk! just, tell me. tell me why... why you did this.."

Frisk started to cry. She wasn't even sure at this point why they did it either, just to SAVE some person they had never met? Was Chara worth this pain?

"Sans... I'm... I'm so sorry Sans..."

"then why, kid? why cause all this pain?"

"I thought I could SAVE everyone, Sans. I felt so.. Determined to SAVE everyone. And I have, and I will again! I just need to get this last person, this person Asriel always told me about, they said this was the only way, like.. Somehow they knew exactly how to save them! And I promised Asriel, I would SAVE Chara no matter what."

Sans froze at the mention of the name Chara. He dispelled the blaster, and let go of Frisk. "kid. chara isn't worth saving, trust me. please, just RESET and let's go back home, with... papyrus."

Frisk considered Sans' offer. She was always so happy living with Sans and Papyrus, and never had a complaint in the world. However, she wondered, "Sans, how do you know Chara?" Frisk asked.

Sans' eyes went completely black, and his permanent grin shrunk slightly. He recalled all the timelines Frisk has been controlled by Chara, and killed everyone. He believed this was one such time, but it didn't seem right this time, Frisk seemed reluctant to FIGHT, whereas they normally FIGHT without a problem. He noticed during their confrontation with Papyrus, but he couldn't be completely certain. "kid, i have my ways, but that isn't important right now. what is important is that you RESET."

Frisk started to tear up again. "I... I can't." She moved her hand to the [FIGHT] option, and before Sans had time to react, he was sliced by the Real Knife. Frisk started to cry and begged Sans for forgiveness.

"it's... alright.. kiddo. i forgive ya, but i hope you can SAVE chara kid, and i hope this was all worth it... i'm going to grillby's... papyrus... you...want...anything..?" And with that he evaporated into dust just as all the other monsters had.

Frisk felt her LV increase.

She fell on the floor, and began to sob harder than she had ever during this run. She ate a Steak in the Shape of Mettaton's Face (weird) to regain some HP, and slowly got up, and walked slowly towards the exit of the hall towards Asgore.

Frisk felt scared to meet Chara, relieved their terrible journey was about to end, Determined to SAVE Chara, and hopeful for a better future all at the same time.

She quickly took out Asgore to SPARE themselves from more pain. "Funny," Frisk thought. "To think I deserve to SPARE myself some pain, when I didn't SPARE or show MERCY to any monster." The world became dark, pitch black, but Frisk could see a figure in the distance, and began to walk towards it.

Slowly, it was getting clearer, it looked like a person.

"Could it be Chara?" Frisk thought to herself.

As Frisk got closer, the figure slowly started to get closer to them as well, until eventually, they were face to face. Frisk looked at them in awe. They looked similar to Frisk. They were only slightly taller, no more than an inch, but had a slightly different hairstyle. They wore a green striped shirt, compared to their own purple striped shirt. Their cheeks had a natural red blush to them, but nothing compared to their eyes. A beautiful shade of Crimson that Frisk found themselves lost in instantly. Frisk thought they were stunning.

"Greetings," they said, the voice clearly feminine.

Frisk was still staring into her eyes, she noticed this and began to blush slightly, and cleared their throat in order to get Frisk's attention.

"Oh! Uh.. I'm sorry, I was just uh.. Nothing! Um, h-hello! I'm, F-frisk! Are you... Ch-Chara perhaps?" Frisk got nervous and stuttered, holding out their hand to greet the new person.

"Yes, I am actually. How do you know my name?" Chara's eyes glowed red, fascinating Frisk.

"Um.. A-actually, Asriel told me about y-you. I'm here to s-SAVE you!"

Chara jumped onto Frisk pulling out a knife from seemingly nowhere. "HOW DO YOU KNOW HIS NAME? WHO TOLD YOU?" Chara seemed furious.

Frisk was terrified. "Um! He told me! I know Asriel, he's my friend! I saved him and the entire underground!"

"YOU LIAR! ASRIEL DIED LONG AGO!" Chara inched the knife ever closer to Frisk's neck.

"I'm not I swear! Asriel is my friend, he told me about you, about your plan, about you poisoning yourself, about the SOULS, about how it failed! He's real sorry about it, and he actually asked me to SAVE you! That's why I'm here Chara!"

Chara looked at Frisk for a moment and started to tear up, the knife disappeared and she got off of Frisk. Frisk noticed and tried to comfort Chara, but she pushed Frisk's arm away. "I don't need you to SAVE me. Asriel failed our mission, I don't even want to see him."

"Please Chara, please let me SAVE you.." Frisk started to tear up. "I want to be your friend, and Asriel would love to see you, and I'm sure Asgore and Toriel would too!"

"You.. You think Mom and Dad would want to see me? After everything I've done to them... Even Asriel?"

"I know they will, so please... Let me SAVE you."

"...fine. But I'm doing this for Asriel and Mom and Dad, not you."

Frisk smiled. "Of course, Chara, I understand. Now take my hand, we've got to go."

"What do you mean?"

"I have to RESET, so we can get back."

"Okay.." Chara took Frisk's hand, and was taken slightly by surprise. She hadn't touched another person in a long time.

"You ready?"

"Yeah, whatever hurry up.." Chara blushed slightly, Frisk noticed.

2. Chapter 2: A New Timeline

Frisk woke up on a bed of yellow flowers. Frisk looked around and knew they were back at the entrance of the Ruins. She sighed, relieved that her plan had worked. Frisk looked over at Chara. She wasn't awake yet, so Frisk decided not to wake them. "She looks so peaceful," Frisk said quietly. They were still holding Chara's hand, and they let go quickly, slightly blushing. "Chara is so... Beautiful.." Frisk said, but a little louder than they hoped.

"Muh.." Chara groaned. "Just... Five more minutes." Chara bolted up right fast and made Frisk jump. "Wh-where am I?!" Chara looked at Frisk. "...oh, you." She said rudely.

Frisk smiled, "Morning, sleepy. Are you ready to go? Or would you prefer to stay here for awhile?" She hoped Chara had not heard what they said a minute ago.

"Go where? I don't see anything," Chara looked up, "other than the hole right above us. Where are we anyways?"

"The Ruins! Don't you remember?"

Chara was quiet for a moment, thinking about the past, and how she fell down the hole of Mount Ebbot, landing in this exact spot.
"Yeah.. I guess I do, but what are we gonna do there?"

"Well Chara, in order to have the same timeline as the one I was originally from, we are gonna have to repeat everything I did, but this time, you'll be there too!"

"You're timeline? What do you mean? You just killed everyone!" Chara got an evil grin, "Maybe you just want to kill them all again?"

Frisk looked mortified. She couldn't do that again, no matter what. "No Chara! We are going to SPARE every monster, and become friends with everyone!"

Now Chara looked mortified. "SPARE them?! No! I will murder all of them!"

"Chara, please, you said you wanted to see Asriel, Toriel, and Asgore right?"

"No, as I remember, I said Asriel was a traitor and I DIDN'T want to see him!"

"Then what was that about, 'I'll go, but for Asriel and Mom and Dad, not for you'" Frisk mocked.

"Shut up, Frisk, that's not what I meant."

"Then what did you mean!" Frisk said a little louder than she wanted.

"...nothing. Let's just go." Chara got up and started walking towards the entrance of the Ruins.

Frisk felt bad about how they acted towards Chara, after all, she wanted to be friends with her, not enemies! "Look, Chara I'm sor-"

"It's fine. Whatever you know?" Chara said without looking back.

Frisk followed after Chara, and they entered the first room. Frisk looked around. "That's strange.. No Flowey anywhere." Frisk thought.

Chara looked around. "I don't remember this area too well, but then again, when I fell, it was kinda a blur." Frisk was about to say something when they saw Toriel, standing there, looking extremely surprised.

"Chara... my child, is that... You?" Toriel said. Chara looked like she was about to cry.

"Mom..." She ran to Toriel and hugged her, making Toriel cry with joy. "My child, I thought I had lost you and Asriel forever, but here you are!" She looked at Frisk. "Is this your friend, Chara?"

Chara glared at Frisk, but looked at Toriel's face and responded, "Yeah mom. Frisk is a good pal of mine." Frisk smiled, but was a little intimidated by Chara's glare.

"Well my children! Let us not waste any time, let's get home, and I'll make us a pie! Frisk, do you like Cinnamon or Butterscotch?"

"I love both actually!" Frisk said, remembering the amazing pies Toriel baked during her previous runs. Toriel's face lit up. "Great! I'll get it started as soon as we arrive home!"

**_*Time Skip*_**

Toriel showed Chara and Frisk to their room, it was fairly big, but only had one bed. "I'm sorry, children, but I don't have another bed to provide for you, so you'll have to sleep together until I can get one." She looked up. "Is something burning? I'll go check!" She ran off quickly, closing the door behind her.

Chara sat down on the bed and checked her stats. LV 1. That's all she needed to read. Frisk had made her SPARE every monster they came across, but in a way, Chara liked to SPARE them. Sure, she would rather cut them in two and watch them bleed, but somehow, she didn't feel angry whenever she had to SPARE something, but instead... Warm inside.

Frisk broke the silence, "So Chara... Um.. I-it's getting late and a-all." Frisk started to blush. "So if you w-want.. We can.. go to bed.."

Chara looked at Frisk. "They look so nervous." She thought to herself. "Its actually kinda cute." Chara blushed, "Wait, did I really just think that?"

Frisk noticed Chara blush and smiled. Chara caught her smiling, "H-hey! Don't get any weird ideas Frisk!"

Frisk giggled, "Don't worry, I'm not." She felt better knowing that Chara got a little flustered too.

Frisk and Chara changed into sleeping garments Toriel had gotten them. Frisk had picked purple pajama pants and shirt combo, while Chara picked the green one. Frisk crawled into the bed and got close against the wall, to provide room for Chara.

Chara looked at the bed and considered sleeping on the floor, she didn't want to sleep with Frisk, but she wanted to get to sleep so she crawled in beside Frisk and got closer to the edge of the bed, leaving room between her and Frisk.

About 40 minutes had past, both tried to get to sleep, but couldn't.

"Chara?" Frisk asked.

"Yeah, what is it?"

"I can't sleep."

"Well, that's not my problem. I can't either."

"Do.." Frisk started to get flustered, but she was glad Chara couldn't see her red face in the dark room. "Do y-you think I c-could maybe.."

"Well, spit it out Frisk."

"...Cuddle... With you?"

Chara blushed hard. She was extremely glad Frisk couldn't see her.
"W-what? Why?"

"I'm sorry! It was stupid to ask!" Frisk turned around, feeling embarrassed and stupid.

"...Sure Frisk. You can."

Frisk faced Chara, "Really?"

"Hurry, before I change my mind."

Frisk got close to Chara, and rested her head on Chara's chest, getting comfortable. Chara blushed even more and put her arm around Frisk. "Thank you Chara." Frisk yawned, "Goodnight."

"Goodnight Frisk." Chara felt... Weird. She didn't know how to explain it. She felt nervous and happy at the same time. For once, she didn't feel like a wasted space, she felt like Frisk needed them, even if it was just a cuddle to get to sleep. For the first time in a long time, Chara felt blissful. She drifted quickly into sleep.

Toriel opened the door quietly, and saw the two sleeping peacefully. She placed two slices of Butterscotch Cinnamon pie she had just baked near their bed for when they woke up. "Sweet dreams, my children." She whispered. And closed the door quietly.

* * *

>Hey! How'd you like this one? A little bit of fluff, as Chara is just now warming up to Frisk. I really hope I am making these okay, I hope they aren't boring or something! Anyways, thanks for reading, and if you have suggestions or comments, let me know! Love you guys!

3. Chapter 3: Onward to Snowdin

Chara awoke the next morning by herself. She felt slightly disappointed, she really liked cuddling with Frisk... "Wait.. am I really thinking stuff like this?" Chara scolded herself. Chara got up and looked at the clock. 12:07 P.M. She slept in really late. Chara was always a heavy deep sleeper, able to sleep for hours upon hours and not be the slightest disturbed by noise, yet, last night, she felt uneasy like something was watching them, and that's why she couldn't sleep.

"Chara?" Frisk knocked on the door lightly just in case Chara was still sleeping. "Are you awake?"

"Uh.. Yeah, I just got up." Frisk opened the door, holding a slice of pie. "Great! Toriel made us some pie, but you didn't wake up, so I saved yours in the fridge." Frisk handed Chara the pie and a fork.

"...Thank you." Chara said quietly. Frisk noticed Chara was blushing slightly.

"Is something the matter?"

Chara looked at Frisk for a moment, but turned her head quickly to avoid Frisk's gaze. "No. Nothing is wrong. I just woke up, could you just.. Go away for awhile?"

Frisk smiled kindly, "Of course, whatever you need." She left, closing the door quietly behind her. She spoke through the door. "Come find me when you are ready, Chara."

Chara sat on the bed with the pie in her hands. "Why is Frisk so nice to me? I tried to kill her! Hell, I was going to kill her.. Why didn't I?" Chara started to feel that weird feeling again, like from last night. "What am I feeling?" She asked herself. They set the pie down and punched the wall. Black goo started to form in their eye. "WHAT IS THIS FEELING? WHY CANT I KILL HER? WHY? WHY?" Chara started throwing a tantrum like a child and Toriel opened the door quickly.

"My child! What is wrong?" Toriel kept a safe distance from the tantrum throwing child, but tried to get closer to comfort Chara.

Chara heard Toriel and ran to her, hugging her and sobbing black tears. "Mom! Why can't I do it?"

"My child, what do you mean?" Asked Toriel, hugging them back, wiping away the tears, she decided not to question the color for now.

"What is Frisk doing to me?"

"Chara, Frisk went to go play with some Froggits, what could she be doing to you?"

"That's not what I mean mom!" Chara started to get angry again.

"Calm down, please. Tell me what you mean by all this Chara, I can try to help."

Chara wanted to hit Toriel, kill her and just run away, but then she thought of Frisk, and, for some reason, couldn't. She decided to tell Toriel about last night.

Toriel giggled. This made Chara bubble with rage.

"DON'T LAUGH AT ME MOTHER."

"My child! That is just a normal feeling, why, I felt that way around..." Toriel sighed. "Asgore. Back when I was younger."

"What did it mean?" Chara was started to get an idea on what it was.

"Why, it's LOVE of course. Or, at the very least, you have a crush on them cause you like them." Toriel giggled again. "Aww, young love."

Chara blushed slightly. Did they like Frisk? If they did, would Frisk even like them back? "Mom?"

"Yes, Chara?"

"I think..." It was hard for Chara to say. "I think I do like Frisk, but, I just met them! How can I already like them?"

"Well, my child, do you believe it love at first sight?" Toriel giggled, "I'm just kidding. But Chara, if you have true feelings for Frisk, you can tell them, and know if they like you, or you can never ask and wonder forever. The worst they can do is say no."

Chara sniffled, and wiped away some tears. "You're right mom. Thank you."

Toriel stood up, "Of course, my child." She left the room leaving Chara to think to herself.

_***Short Time Skip***_

"Up ahead is the exit to the RUINS, I am going to destroy it. Do not try to stop me." Toriel said without looking at Chara or Frisk, she rushed ahead.

Frisk grabbed Chara's hand, causing Chara to blush. "Let's go, Chara." Chara was silent. She didn't know what Toriel was about to do.

"Fine. Prove to me you are strong enough to survive." Toriel said.

A battle sequence started.

"Frisk! I don't want to FIGHT mom!"

Frisk smiled, "Chara, I'm glad to hear that! Don't worry, we won't. Just follow after me, and remember, avoid her attacks!"

Chara smiled back. "Okay, Frisk." Toriel launched magical attacks at Chara and Frisk, which they dodged perfectly, in almost perfect sync. Every now and then Frisk would try to initiate a conversation, but Toriel would never reply. Chara was staring at Frisk flawlessly dodging Toriel's attacks. She was so distracted she didn't see a fireball coming straight for her. Frisk looked at Chara and became wide eyed.

"Chara!" Frisk yelled and pushed Chara out of the way and took the blow.

"Frisk! Are you okay? I'm so sorry!"

Frisk ate a piece of Monster Candy and recovered all her health. She winked at Chara, "Never better!"

Chara was relieved. She didn't want Frisk getting hurt, and she felt like such an idiot for letting herself almost get hit.

Toriel started missing Chara and Frisk on purpose. "I'm sorry my children.."

They remained quiet.

"I know we do not have much..."

They listened.

"But we can be happy here!"

Silence.

"Please..."

Nothing.

The battle ended. They successfully spared Toriel.

"I should've known. The RUINS is no place to raise children, I'm sorry." Frisk and Chara hugged Toriel, and she started to cry, but from happiness. "But I will not worry! I know you two will make it just fine out there! But please, do not return, I do hope you understand." Toriel left the two alone and returned home.

Frisk hugged Chara, taking them by surprise.

"Uh? Frisk! What are you doing!"

"You did amazing on sparing everyone Chara! I'm so happy!"

Chara blushed, "Well, it was just because you were there. If you weren't, I probably would've killed them all."

Frisk giggled, "Well, I'm glad I was there then." She kissed Chara on the cheek.

Chara's face turned completely red. "F-frisk!"

Frisk let go of Chara and turned red. "I-I'm sorry C-Chara! I didn't mean to! It j-just kinda happened!"

Chara looked at Frisk, and smiled. Chara hugged Frisk and gave her a kiss on the cheek. "That's payback."

Frisk laughed with relief, and Chara laughed with them. Chara felt happy again, like the night before.

"So, Frisk," Chara started. "Where to next?"

"Snowdin! You can meet some more of my friends!"

Chara became nervous. She could faintly remember someone from there, but she couldn't place who. But it made her feel, uneasy.

"You okay Chara? You look spaced out."

Chara snapped back to reality. "Yeah. I'm good, let's go." Chara started to walk towards the exit.

"Chara?" Frisk asked.

"Yes?"

"Do y-you think we c-could maybe, hold hands?"

Chara blushed and smiled. "Sure, Frisk."

"Yay!"

Frisk skipped towards Chara and grabbed her hand, and they walked together towards the exit.

Frisk felt a strange feeling, being in the presence of Chara. She wasn't afraid, even though she knew the stories about Chara from Asriel. She felt happy. She enjoyed being in Chara's presence, and talking to her. And right now, holding Chara's hand, she had never felt happier, even when she lived with Sans and Papyrus.

_***Walking with Chara towards a new adventure, fills you with DETERMINATION***_

>So guys. What did you think? Too early for the fluffy stuff? Or juuuuust right? Anyways, comments are awesome and appreciated, and I'll take suggestions as well! (Like, what you'd like to read, or if I could improve my writing style, stuff like that!) Thank you. Love you guys!

4. Chapter 4: Onward to Snowdin (2)

Chara and Frisk walk hand in hand through the snow. The two had just left the RUINS after sparing Toriel ready to face anything ahead of them.

"I wish we would've grabbed some winter clothes first," Chara shivered.

"Well, I'm warm because I have you with me," Frisk flirted. She leaned in and gave Chara a light kiss on the cheek.

Chara's face became red and hot. "F-frisk!"

Frisk giggled. She loved whenever Chara got flustered, it made her look cute.

They continued walking and came across the a giant stick that looked thick and incredibly hard to break, and carefully stepped over it. Frisk smiled, knowing about the pun loving skeleton they were about to meet, but a wave dread washed over her. "What will Sans think when he sees me? Or Chara?" Frisk thought to herself.

Chara noticed Frisk's distress, "Anything wrong Frisk?"

Frisk snapped back to reality. "Yes, of course! Let's keep moving!" Frisk steadily got faster seeing the gate ahead of them Papyrus had built.

Chara knew something was off, but decided not to question her.

When they arrived at the gate, they heard something moving behind them, Chara braced for a battle, while Frisk stood calm and waited.

"human. don't you know how to greet an new pal? turn around and shake my hand." They said, without even looking at Chara.

Frisk turned around and shook the mysterious (oooooh who could it be?) figure's hand. A loud fart came from his hand. Frisk and Chara giggled.

"heh. the ol' whoopee cushion in the hand trick. it's always funny. the name's sans, sans the skeleton." Sans chuckled. "hey, do i know either of you?" Shooting a glare at Chara, but Frisk didn't notice.

Frisk smiled, but Chara stared with a straight face. They couldn't quite place it, but she felt slightly scared around Sans.. But why?

"nah, i must be imagining things. anywho, so you two are human huh? that's hilarious. right now, i'm supposed to be on lookout for humans, but i don't really wanna capture any humans. now my brother papyrus, he's a human hunting fanatic! let's go meet him."

The trio walked through the gate that was too large to prevent anything from getting through, so they could slip past with ease.

"quick, behind that conveniently shaped lamp." Sans pointed towards a lamp that looked strangely like the two.

Frisk drug Chara over towards it to hide, she had a big grin on her face, that couldn't help but make Chara smile too.

"SANS! HAVE YOU SEEN ANY HUMANS LATELY?" Papyrus came running in.

"nah, but hey, look at that cool lamp."

"NO! I DONT HAVE TIME FOR THAT! I HAVE TO RECALIBRATE MY PUZZLES AND BE ON THE LOOKOUT FOR ANY HUMANS!" Papyrus was stomping his foot on the ground.

"heh. alright bro."

"HAVE YOU EVEN GOTTEN ANY WORK DONE TODAY SANS?"

"yeah, of course bro, i've gotten at ton of work done." Sans winked. "a skele-**ton**."

Frisk and Chara giggled softly behind the lamp.

"SANS! THAT WAS TERRIBLE!"

"you're smiling."

"I AM AND I HATE IT!"

"**tibia** honest, my **bone**-ified, puns will tickle even your funny **bone**, papyrus." Sans chuckled, as his permanent grin grew larger.

"SANS! WHY?!" Papyrus ran off.

"alright kiddos, you can come out." Sans was still laughing.

Frisk decided to join in on the laughter, and Chara followed shortly.

"good job hiding, you two. he never suspected a thing."

"Those puns sure were **rib**-tickling, Sans!" Frisk cracked up.
"they sure were kiddo." Sans started chuckling again.

After the laughing fit, Frisk looked at Sans with a serious face,
"Can I talk to you Sans?"

"uh, sure bucko. what's up?"

Frisk turned to Chara, "I need to talk to Sans privately. You should go on ahead! I'll catch up with you in a minute."

"But, Frisk, what if I get into a FIGHT? You won't be there to help me! I might... I might..."

Frisk put her finger to Chara's lips. "Chara, I know you can do it. Besides, I won't be gone long, just a short chat, and then I'll catch up."

Chara smiled and blushed slightly. "Okay Frisk. But please hurry." She walked away slowly and cautiously. Normally, she'd have no problem advancing forward, taking down what was in her path, but she tried to be good, for Frisk.

* * *

>"so. at least your back and not trying to kill everyone this time." Sans said harshly.

"Sans. I'm so sorry, but I had to!" Frisk already felt tears forming in her eyes.

"kid, i thought i told you chara wasn't worth saving."

"No! You're wrong Sans. Chara has changed! She hasn't hurt anyone in the underground so far, in fact, she has SPARED every monster so far."

"okay, but were you with her during that?"

"Well, of course, but-"

"if you weren't there, do you think she'd even show the slightest bit of MERCY? no, she'd kill them."

"No, Sans.. She.. She wouldn't."

"and you just sent her off to wonder around, and any poor monster in her way could die."

Frisk was silent for a moment. "Sans."

"yup?"

"I-I... Like her a lot Sans. More than normal people."

"ah jeez, kiddo, say it ain't so." Sans' permanent grin shrunk.

"I do Sans! And I promise you. Chara will be a good person, she's already made so much progress!" Frisk remembered something, "Besides! Doesn't Papyrus always say, 'anyone can be a good person, if they try?'"

Sans was quiet.

"Well!" Frisk got slightly impatient.

Sans chuckled. "alright kid. i trust you, if anyone can change chara, it's you.

Frisk started to tear up. "Thank you Sans!" She hugged him tightly.

"no problem bud." He ran his hand through Frisk's hair. Remembering when they lived on the surface. "are we gonna go back home? on the surface i mean."

"Of course Sans, and I'll come live you and Papyrus again, and we'll be a family again!"

"is chara included in that?"

"Yes."

"if you can change her, i don't care, i just want to have our happy ending again."

"Me too Sans." Frisk let go of Sans and smiled.

"well, i'll see you and your lover later."

Frisk blushed. "Well I don't know if she's-" but Sans already took a shortcut.

Frisk ran ahead to try to catch up with Chara, when she saw her crying in the snow.

"C-Chara? What's wrong?" Frisk ran to Chara. "I can't do it Frisk! I can't SPARE monsters!"

Frisk looked around, there wasn't a monster in sight. She tried putting her arm around Chara, but Chara moved her hand away.

"What do you mean?" Frisk asked, scared Chara might have killed someone.

"I got into a FIGHT." "...and what happened..?"

"I wanted so badly to kill them, to hurt them any way possible."

"Chara.." Frisk put her hand on Chara's back.

"But.. I thought about you Frisk. And I didn't. I just ran away."

Frisk was extremely relieved Chara hadn't killed anyone. "Is that it?"

"Yes, but Frisk! I wanted to, I wanted to so badly! If I hadn't thought of you, I would've! What if one day you won't be here at all? I might just kill everything again!" Chara started to cry more.

Frisk hugged her. "Chara, I will never leave you, no matter what. I will always be with you. I-I.. Love you, Chara."

Chara stopped crying. "Frisk.. I.. I didn't think you.." She wiped away her tears. "I love you too!" She smiled and hugged Frisk back.

They got up, and Frisk took Chara's hand, "Lets get going. We've got a lot ahead of us."

"As long as it's with you Frisk, I don't care where we go." Chara said.

5. Chapter 5: Winter Love

Chara and Frisk tracked through the snow together having a good time in each others presence. They had fun meeting new monsters and Chara even liked to SPARE them. They had encountered many monsters, such as Snowcap, Jerry (ugh), Snowdrake and Chilldrake (Who reminded them of a particular skeleton), Gyftrot, and Frisk's personal favorite, the Lesser Dog. Frisk had pet the Lesser Dog to a unimaginably ridiculous point, to which Chara commented, "I think you may have a problem."

After encountering Dogamy and Dogaressa, the two decided to take a short break. Chara was sitting in the snow, drawing, while Frisk was building a snowman.

"Chara! Care to join me?" Frisk yelled. Chara looked over and saw Frisk making a giant ball of snow for the snowman's base. It was almost as big as her!

"Sure, sounds fun!" Chara ran over to Frisk.

"You can make the next ball for the Snowman body, I'll go look for stuff to put on him, be right back!" Frisk ran off.

Chara started to roll some snow in a giant ball, thinking about Frisk. "I'm so glad I met her. I don't think I've been this happy before." Chara started to cry, some of her tears freezing in the air.

Frisk walked back with some necessary snowman supplies and saw Chara crying. She dropped her stuff and ran over. "Chara! Are you okay? Did something happen?" Frisk touched her back.

"Nothing is wrong Frisk!" Chara said smiling, tears still coming. She hugged Frisk. "I'm just so happy I met you!"

Frisk was taken aback by the sudden hug, but hugged Chara back quickly. Chara let go, and looked at her.

Frisk placed her hands on Chara's cheeks, and wiped away Chara's semi-frozen tears. "I'm so glad I met you too, Chara." She pulled her in for a kiss. Chara was wide-eyed and blushing madly. She didn't expect that, but soon she melted into the kiss and kissed back. It was a short "first time" kind of kiss, and Frisk pulled away, leaving Chara speechless.

Frisk giggled at her red faced friend. "Come on, Chara, lets finish the snowman!"

The two worked on their snowman for awhile, not caring about the time. It became dark, and they were still messing with their snowman.

"Frisk, come put on the nose!" Chara said, admiring their snowman. Frisk placed a tiny triangular shaped black rock where the nose was supposed to be.

The girls stood back and looked at their creation.

"You know," Frisk began. "I think this is a better look for Sans!"

The girls laughed at the Snowman Sans. A splitting image of the actual Sans, without the jacket and shorts.

"Oh!" Chara said, walking towards the SnowSans. "Don't look Frisk, I have to put on the final touches!"

Frisk turned away, and Chara drew in the body of the SnowSans with her finger:

_***Frisk + Chara*
>_embroidered by a heart.

"Frisk, you can look now!" Chara said smiling wide.

Frisk gasped slightly. "Chara! I love it!" She hugged Chara, causing her to blush. "But, do you think Sans would like our names in his chest?"

Chara hugged Frisk tightly, and whispered, "I don't care." Making Frisk smile.

The two noticed it was getting dark outside, so they decided to quickly rush to Snowdin.

**_*Short Time Skip*_**

"You two look beat! Children shouldn't be out this late at night!" The innkeeper sounded half concerned, and half scolded the two.

"Well, we are both teens," spoke up Frisk.

The innkeeper noticed when they walked in that they were holding hands. "Ah. I see, out on a date then? So that's what it was." She sighed. "Oh, young love~"

Chara and Frisk blushed and looked at each other, giving a quick smile.

The Innkeeper giggled. "So I was right! I'm sorry, it's a habit of mine to be nosy." She thought for a moment. "Say! How about this; because of my rude nosy-ness, I'll let you two stay for free tonight! How about it?"

Frisk smiled big, "Wow! Thank you so much!" Frisk took the keys to their room and walked upstairs with Chara.

Frisk opened the door to the room, and noticed only one queen sized bed. "Looks like we'll have to share~" flirted Frisk.

"Yeah. Guess so."

_*Chara was immune to the flirt.*_

"Let's get to bed then, I'm soooo tired!" She looked at Frisk. "Besides.. the earlier we get in bed, the earlier I can cuddle with you~" Chara flirted twice as hard.

_*Frisk noticed the flirt.*_

"Hmm." Frisk thought. She got an idea. Frisk grabbed Chara's hand, and pulled her onto the bed and got on top of her. "You ready, Chara?" Frisk said quietly.

Chara got flustered and was blushing madly and couldn't speak.

Frisk leaned in close, they were practically kissing. Then, suddenly, she pulled back and got off of Chara and lied next to flirted THREE as hard!

_*Chara couldn't play it cool this time.*_

"F-Frisk! D-don't do that!"

Frisk giggled. "I'm sorry Chara! How can I ever make it up to you?" She said sarcastically.

"...You could just cuddle with me. I'm freezing." Chara said.

"Ah, I can do that!" Frisk giggled, getting comfortable on Chara.

Chara wrapped her arm around Frisk, hugging her close. "You're so warm Frisk." Chara said shutting her eyes.

"You too." Frisk started to shut hers as well.

"Goodnight, love." Chara flirted FRICE (I dunno!) as hard!

_*Frisk blushed, but Chara couldn't see it anyway.*_

"Sweet Dreams!" Frisk said.

_The next morning..._

Frisk woke up before Chara and looked at her. "She is so beautiful when she's sleeping." Frisk whispered. She decided not to wake up Chara and just keep cuddling, and drifted back to sleep.

Chara awoke about an hour later looking around the room, remembering slower where she was. She looked at Frisk. "Last night was a lot of fun, I wish I could relive it again." She quietly said to herself. She got the weird feeling inside her again, but this time, she knew exactly what it was. LOVE. She loved Frisk with all her heart, and somehow, she knew Frisk felt the same too.

She looked at the clock. 11:34. "Ugh, why can't you stop moving, so I can just be here with Frisk for a little longer.." Chara spoke a little louder.

"We can stay as long as you'd like, Chara.." Frisk said sleepily. Chara blushed.

"Oh! Frisk, I didn't know you were awake. Morning!"

Frisk smiled, "Morning Chara."

"So, what's on the agenda for today?"

*yawn* "Battle Papyrus, probably. He seemed so excited yesterday, I wouldn't doubt if he was still standing at the edge of town for us.." Frisk cuddled closer to Chara, getting comfortable again.

"Didn't you tell him yesterday we were gonna go to the Inn?"

"Yeah, but that won't stop Papyrus, he's always ready."

"Well, I guess we should be heading out soon, huh?" Chara said, sounding disappointed.

"I thought you wanted to stay longer?"

"But Papyrus.."

"I wanna stay here with you for awhile longer too.." Frisk yawned.

Chara was happy Frisk wanted to stay too. She felt slightly bad for making Papyrus wait on them, but she was more focused on Frisk right now to care about anything else.

_***Cuddling together fills you both with LOVE***_

>Hey guys! Super fluffy chapter, eh? Hope you liked it! I enjoyed writing it so much! Anywho, I might post another chapter today, I've got time. I hope you guys love it so far! LOVE YOU GUYS!

6. Chapter 6: Leaving Snowdin

Frisk and Chara walk to the edge of town after spending the morning together, deciding that they made Papyrus wait long enough. They walked forward, and it started to get super foggy, so much so that they could barely see each other. Frisk grabbed Chara's hand so she wouldn't lose her in the fog.

"HUMANS.." They heard a voice in the distance. The fog dissipated.

"YOU'RE FINALLY HERE! I THOUGHT YOU'D NEVER SHOW!"

"Sorry for keeping you waiting Papyrus!" Frisk apologized.

Papyrus noticed the two holding hands. "AH. I SEE, YOU TWO WERE HAVING A DATE?"

Chara blushed, Frisk nodded. While, he wasn't right, he wasn't technically wrong either.

"NYEH HEH HEH! THE GREAT PAPYRUS ALWAYS KNOWS!" He struck a pose.
"C-CAN WE BATTLE NOW? I HAVE TO CAPTURE YOU!"

Frisk smiled, "Yeah! Let's go!"

A battle sequence started. Frisk and Chara both selected MERCY.

"SO, YOU WON'T FIGHT? GUESS I'LL JUST HAVE TO USE MY BLUE ATTACK!"

"Frisk? What does a blue attack mean?"

"Whenever you see a blue bone, don't move, and you'll be fine!"

"Alright Frisk!"

Papyrus launched a barrage of blue bones at Frisk and Chara, but they knew not to move to avoid taking damage. It took a lot of willpower not to try to move out of their way, but they let the bones pass right through them. It was a strange sensation, like water flowing over you, without getting wet. Their SOULS reacted to the blue attack... They turned blue! Frisk and Chara could feel an immense weight pulling them down. They could only jump, and fall back down.

"What the?" Chara said.

"YOU'RE BLUE NOW! THAT'S MY ATTACK." Papyrus laughed lightheartedly.

The battle continued on.

Papyrus would launch various bone themed attacks that Chara and Frisk had to time to jump over correctly without getting hit. The two were doing a amazing job at not getting hit.

Papyrus would continue to rub random substances in the back of his skull that disappeared the instant he put them there.

*Papyrus realizes he doesn't have ears*

Chara and Frisk giggled at Papyrus' silliness.

They continued to dodge more attacks and had a little fun with it, playing chicken with the bone attacks. Chara was normally braver than Frisk and would stay until the last possible second before she'd jump.

"ALRIGHT YOU TWO! TIME TO SHOW YOU MY SPECIAL ATTACK! NYEH HEH HEH, TAKE THIS!" Papyrus seemed like he was having just as good as a time as the girls, that is, until he saw an annoying dog chewing a bone.

"HEY! LET GO OF MY SPECIAL ATTACK!" The dog got up and ran away.

Chara and Frisk couldn't help but laugh. *SIGH* "I GUESS I'LL JUST HAVE TO USE A REALLY COOL REGULAR ATTACK." He launched a bunch of bones in random patterns. It was pretty cool. At the end of the long string of bones was a message... in bones: *SANS AND PAPYRUS, BEST AND COOLEST BROS FOR EVER AND EVER!*

Frisk was a little surprised. Last run, it was a giant line of bones, with a bone on a skateboard last, but she thought this was much cooler. "Papyrus, this is amazing!" Frisk said.

"NYEH HEH HEH! YOU REALLY THINK SO?" Papyrus looked overjoyed.

"Yeah, this is incredible!" Chara yelled. "WOWIE! I NEVER KNEW HUMANS COULD BE SO NICE! I WILL SPARE YOU HUMANS, NOW IS YOUR CHANCE TO ACCEPT MY MERCY!"

Papyrus was done with fighting the two, in fact, he secretly wanted to be friends with them. Chara and Frisk hit the MERCY option together, and the battle ended.

"HUMANS, YOU ARE REALLY AWESOME! WORTHY OF BEING FRIENDS WITH THE GREAT... NO, I CAN'T! I CAN'T BE FRIENDS WITH YOU TWO, I HAVE TO CAPTURE YOU!" Papyrus looked sad. "WHAT WILL UNDYNE THINK WHEN SHE SEES I COULDN'T EVEN CAPTURE TWO MEASLY HUMANS..."

"Why don't we just be friends instead Papyrus!" Frisk said.

"Yeah, you are really cool, just like Sans told us!" Chara said.

"WOWIE! YOU REALLY MEAN IT?" Papyrus looked happy again. "NYEH HEH HEH! THEN I, THE GREAT PAPYRUS, WILL ACCEPT YOUR FRIENDSHIP WITH OPEN ARMS!" He swung his arms open, the girls ran into him, giving him a big hug.

"WELL! I GUESS YOU TWO WOULD LIKE DIRECTIONS ON HOW TO GET HOME?" Papyrus asked, getting up from the hug.

"No thank you Papyrus! I think I've got it covered from here!" Frisk said.

"YOU KNOW ABOUT THE CORE, AND ASGORE?" (Ha! Rhymes!) Papyrus asked, suspiciously.

"Um, yeah!" Chara stepped in. "Sans actually told us!" She lied, but she didn't want Papyrus to get suspicious of them.

"MY LAZY BROTHER ACTUALLY HELPED YOU? WOWIE! I MUST BE RUBBING OFF ON HIM! NYEH HEH HEH!" Papyrus laughed again.

"Anyways, we'll be heading off now, Papyrus, Chara and I have a lot ahead of us!" Frisk gave Papyrus her phone number and said her goodbyes. Chara did the same.

"BYE HUMANS! VISIT US ANYTIME YOU'D LIKE!" Papyrus waved to the two, then ran off back to Snowdin. Frisk and Chara walked together towards the Waterfall. They noticed a thin line where the snow ended, and the Waterfall area began.

After a short walk through a cavern leading to the actual Waterfall area, they saw.. Sans?

"Sans!" Frisk ran over to him.

"heh. hey kiddo. betcha didn't expect me working two jobs eh?" He chuckled.

"You're too lazy to work two jobs though..." Chara rolled her eyes.

"twice as many jobs, means twice as many legally required breaks. speaking of which, i'm thinking of taking one now, how about you two head over to Grillby's with me?" Frisk nodded. Chara was more reluctant.

"Frisk, shouldn't we get going?"

"Come on, Chara! Let's go get some food, I'm starving, aren't you?"

"Yeah. I guess." Chara looked at Sans. He didn't seem to be mad at her like he was awhile back. "Let's go."

"Thank you, Chara."

Sans smiled. "well kiddos, i guess i'll have to let you drag me away from my job here. come on, i know a shortcut."

They were at the front of Grillby's in less than 10 seconds. Frisk and Chara were well aware of Sans' shortcuts and weren't surprised, but it was still a strange feeling.

Everyone saw Sans and greeted him instantly.

"Weren't you here for breakfast?" A duck like monster asked.

"nah. i haven't eaten for atleast half an hour. you're thinking of brunch." People laughed. Neither Frisk or Chara found it funny.

The trio sat down at the bar. "whadaya want kiddos?"

"Do they have any chocolate?" Chara asked.

"...I melted it all... Sorry." Grillbz replied.

Chara sighed. "I'll take a burger then."

Frisk smiled, "Me too!"

"ill take what the kids are havin'" Sans said.

Grillbz walked off. "hey you two. i've gotta question for ya."

Frisk and Chara say silent, time seemed to stop around them.

"have either of you ever heard of a talking flower?"

Frisk nodded. "Yeah, I know about it."

Chara shook her head, she had yet to know about Flowey, Frisk hadn't told her.

"yeah. the echo flower, people can say something to it, and they'll repeat it. anyway, papyrus said there was a flower that spoke friendly words to him, such as encouragement. i think someone is playing a prank on him. just watch yourselves."

Frisk smiled, she knew what Sans meant. "Of course Sans, I'll be careful."

"Yeah.. Uh me too?" Chara said. Time seemed to flow normally again.

Grillbz brought out the burgers. "thanks. you kids want any ketchup?"

Both shook their heads and began to eat.

"fine, more for me." He drank straight from the bottle.

After their lunch, they walked out together. Frisk let Chara walk ahead a little bit before grabbing Sans hand and getting his attention.

"I know what you meant Sans." Frisk smiled, and let go of his hand.

"figured you would kid. just be careful, protect her too." Sans' grin grew a little.

"Sans! I'm so happy you are warming up to her!" She hugged him.

"not saying i am, kid. but i just want you to be happy." "See you later Sans." "see ya." Sans took a shortcut away.

Frisk jogged and caught up to Chara. Hugging her from behind. "Thanks for going to lunch with Sans! It means a lot to him, even if he doesn't say." Frisk smiled.

"No problem, Frisk." Chara blushed as Frisk kissed her on the cheek and let go of the hug.

"Let's get going!" Chara grabbed Frisk's hand and started running towards the Waterfall.

**_*Excitement for the next part of your journey, fills you both with DETERMINATION*_**

7. Chapter 7: Through the Waterfall

Chara and Frisk took in the breathtaking sights the Waterfall had to offer. Glowing mushrooms and flowers, giant waterfalls, beautiful streams, in a dark cavern that seemed to be lightened by artificial star lights. The light glistened off the water and gave an amazing glow.

Frisk looked over at Chara, "You know," Frisk smiled, "You look even more beautiful in this light."

Chara blushed madly, and looked at Frisk. "No.. you look even more beautiful than me." Chara winked, causing Frisk to blush. "And that blush makes you look even cuter!"

Frisk dipped Chara over and stared into her eyes. She loved the Crimson color that glistened in the light.

"F-Frisk? What are you-" Chara was interrupted by Frisk's lips connecting to hers.

Chara melted into the kiss and closed her eyes.

Frisk ended the kiss quickly, to Chara's dissatisfaction, as she was getting heavy to hold.

She picked Chara and herself back up before she could fall. "Does that answer your question?"

"Y-yeah." Chara was almost breathless.

The girls walked further into the Waterfall area and noticed a large abundance of glowing flowers, whispering random sentences.

Chara walked over to one and listened: "Someday, I'd like to see the surface!" It repeated the sentence.

"Frisk, are these the echo flowers Sans told us about?" The flower repeated what Chara had just said.

"Yes, actually! Cool, huh?" The flower repeated Frisk.

Chara thought for a moment, and got a evil grin on her face.

"My name is Frisk and I want to SAVE everyone in the underground, no matter what!" Chara mocked. The flower copied her, and Chara started to laugh.

Frisk frowned. "Well, my name is Chara, and I HATE humanity!" Frisk mocked, and pointing her tongue at Chara.

Both girls started to laugh.

The flower kept repeating Frisk's comment, and Chara eventually got uneasy.

"But I also love Frisk.." Chara said quietly. The flower copied her again.

Frisk hugged her. "I love you too." Causing Chara to smile.

Frisk released Chara, but she took her hand. "Let's get out of here, too many voices!" Frisk giggled.

The two ran out of the flower area, faintly hearing the flower Frisk had just spoken to. Chara could feel a weird warmness within them, making them extremely happy. Being around Frisk always made them feel happy, but hearing the flower repeat in her voice "I love you too" made her twice as such, she knew she was in love.

Up ahead, they saw Sans, standing next to a telescope.

"Hey Sans!" Frisk called. Sans looked over and saw the two holding hands, his grin wavered slightly, but neither of the girls noticed.

"hey, kiddos. wanna use the telescope? normally i charge a fee of 50000g, but for you two, ill let you use it for free." His grin grew larger.

Frisk knew about the trap, but decided not to tell Chara, for reasons.

"What about it Chara? Wanna look?" Frisk looked at Sans and grinned.

Chara noticed the two giving each other looks, "Hmm.. sure."

She looked through the telescope. She could only see a light red color, and when she looked around, she could only see a note in the right corner saying: "got ya, kid."

Chara stepped back from the telescope and looked at Sans and Frisk.

They bust out laughing uncontrollably. "Alright guys! There was just a message, it wasn't that funny." Chara said a little aggravated the two were laughing at her so hard.

Frisk walked over to a reflective rock and picked it up and let Chara look at her reflection. She was still laughing.

Chara looked at herself. There was a giant purple ring on her eye.
"Ah. So that's why you two find it so funny." Chara giggled, and lightly punched Sans on the shoulder. "Yeah, you got me."

Sans flinched at Chara's hit, but he composed himself quickly thinking the girls didn't see him flinch. "heh.. yeah, i guess so kid." Sans stopped laughing. Chara noticed.

Soon, Frisk stopped laughing, and apologized to Chara for laughing so much.

"It was just really funny!" Frisk made an excuse.

"Yeah, whatever Frisk." Chara pretended to be mad.

Frisk hugged Chara and pulled them close, Chara didn't pull away. "Come on, Chara~" Frisk said in a suggestive tone of voice. She placed a quick kiss on her cheek. "Don't be mad at me."

Sans groaned. "jeez you two, right in front of me?"

Chara ignored Sans and looked at Frisk, then quickly dipping her like Frisk had done earlier. "Well, I guess you'll have to do something for me then~" Chara whispered. She got close to Frisk's face.

Frisk blushed. "W-what is it?" She already knew, but decided to ask.

"Kiss me." Chara smiled and kissed Frisk.

Sans groaned again. "get a room you two.."

Chara stopped the kiss early and shot daggers at Sans. Not the "I will kill you" daggers, but more like the, "Wow, are you seriously gonna stand there and ruin this perfect moment I JUST set up for us" daggers.

Sans knew instantly, and used a shortcut away, but not before rolling his eyes sarcastically.

"Anyways, where were we?" Chara said.

Frisk giggled, "Oh I think I know!" and wrapped her hands around Chara's neck and pulled her in for another kiss. The kiss was long and passionate. Chara wanted to take things a step further, and tried putting her tongue in Frisk's mouth. She started to lick Frisk's lips, as a sign she wanted entrance into her mouth. Frisk was reluctant, but let Chara have her way. Chara licked Frisk's tongue, making Frisk let out a soft moan. Chara picked herself and Frisk up, breaking away from the kiss, a small string of saliva stretching from her mouth.

"W-wow. Chara.." Frisk got out.

"I-I'm sorry Frisk.. I shouldn't have done that." Chara started getting red faced.

"No! I... I really liked it." Frisk smiled.

"Really?"

"A lot, actually." Frisk blushed.

Chara cleared her throat, "Well, lead the way Frisk!" She grabbed Frisk's hand.

The two walked a little farther and saw a small monster that reminded them of a ob-longed tear drop.

"Hello there!" Frisk smiled towards the small monster.

"Oh, hello! Who are you two?" The monster looked adorable to Frisk.

"My name is Frisk, and this is my friend Chara."

Chara looked at the monster, she couldn't help but smile at him.
"Greetings, I am Chara."

"Can I ask you a question?" he said.

Chara nodded, Frisk did as well. "Go ahead." Frisk replied.

"What's a star? Can you touch it? Can you eat it? Can you touch it?" He asked quickly.

Chara was about to answer, when Frisk replied, "What do you think a star is?"

"I think a star is an awesome person..." He thought for a moment.
"Are either of you a star?"

Chara got on one knee to be level with him. She pat his head and smiled. "No, we aren't, but you know who is?"

His eyes lit up, "Who? I would love to know!"

"You are."

He lit up with happiness. "I am? Wow... I never knew! Thank you so much." He jogged off happily, skipping every other step.

Chara got up and looked at Frisk, who was giving her a huge smile. "Chara! That was so sweet of you!" She hugged Chara. "You are a wonderful person, you know, no matter what anyone says." She whispered to her.

"It's because of you, Frisk. You make me want to be this way... When I'm around you, I just feel... like nothing can go wrong." Chara said, Frisk released the hug.

Frisk took Chara's hand again, and started to walk forward. "I feel the same, Chara. I love you."

"I love you too, Frisk!" Chara couldn't get the grin off her face, but she didn't care, she wanted to smile.

"So, Chara, I've thought of a cool place to visit before we continue." Frisk said.

"Sure, what are you thinking? A nice spring, a quiet cave?" Chara suggested.

"Temmie Village!" Frisk giggled happily, she loved the Tem species.

"Wherever you go, I go!" Chara giggled back.

8. Chapter 8: Temmie Village

The new area the girls walked in was dimly lit by glowing mushrooms and crystals. The floor under them was spotted with reflective stones that glowed white. It was bright enough to see where you were going in the cavern, but still too dark to see far ahead of you. The two followed the lit path towards Temmie Village, with Frisk leading the way, smiling gleefully.

"Are we almost there?" Chara complained. "It feels like we've been walking forever."

"Chara, we've only been walking for ten minutes."

"Well it feels like twenty." Chara sighed.

Frisk looked ahead and saw the narrow path that lead straight to Temmie Village, her face lighting up. She started to run, "It's right over here!" She yelled.

"Jeez. She sure is excited about this." Chara said to herself. It made her smile seeing how happy Frisk was, but she honestly wasn't feeling too excited about it. She figured it was just because she was tired, and she didn't want to ruin Frisk's good time with a bad attitude. She started to run after Frisk. "Wait up!" Chara yelled.

Frisk ran ahead and down the path to the village. Chara kept up behind. After a short jog, they had finally arrived. She saw a Temmie and ran towards it.

"hOI! i'm tEMMIE!" the Temmie yelled. Frisk giggled with joy.

"hOI! i'm tEMMIE too!" The Temmie next to Temmie yelled.

"yaYA! i'm tEMMIE AlSO!" The Temmie who was next to Temmie, next to Temmie yelled.

"Hey, I'm Bob." Bob said. Frisk hugged a Temmie and pet the other Tammies. They started to play together, having a great time.

Chara watched as Frisk was playing with the Tammies, when Bob walked over."

Oh, hello there. Are you Temmie?" Chara asked.

"No. I'm Bob." he replied.

"Why don't you sound like the other Tammies?" Bob had a deeper voice than all the other Tammies and could speak perfectly.

"I dunno. Just do." Bob wasn't much of a talker.

Chara reached down and pet Bob's fur. It was incredibly soft, and smooth, like running your hand through silk. Bob enjoyed the petting, and let Chara continue. Chara sat down and continued to pet Bob. Bob curled up in Chara's lap and fell asleep almost instantly. She smiled at the Temmie, it was incredibly adorable. Looking up, she watched Frisk play with the more energetic Tammies, as they ran around.

One Temmie stopped moving, looking at Frisk.

"so hungr..." It whined cutely.

The other Tammies stopped moving in unison, really, they seemed to have only one brain.

"yAyA, i agREEs" One said.

"Hold on, I'll go get some Temmie Flakes!" Frisk said, running towards the Tem Shop.

The Tammies cheered.

One Temmie walked away from the group to get a look at Chara, and noticed Bob sleeping peacefully in her lap.

"awwAwa cute!" She said, looking right at Chara.

"Oh, well thank you, Temmie!" Chara smiled at her.

The Temmie walked away with a grin on its face, not remembering what Chara had said. She was too focused on the Temmie Flakes.

Frisk had walked of the Tem Shop with 30g worth of Temmie Flakes, and placed them on the ground, which the Tammies swarmed and ate up.

"FOOB!" They screamed. Frisk looked at Chara and smiled, Chara smiled back.

Frisk walked over to her. "Hey! You made a friend too!"

Chara looked down at Bob. "Yeah, this is Bob. He's super soft and cute." She giggled.

Frisk sat down next to Chara and rested her head on Chara's shoulder. "Sorry I've been ignoring you... I hope you aren't mad." Frisk said, petting Bob softly.

"No, you're fine Frisk, don't worry! I'm just glad you are having fun." She took Frisk's hand and held it. Causing Frisk to smile.

"Thank you Chara, I'm glad you found a Temmie you liked, I wasn't actually sure if you'd like this place."

"I wasn't sure at first either, but—" She looked at the Tammies. "I'm having a fun time watching them." She giggled.

The Tammies looked at the two and all walked over. "OMG! humans TOO CUTE!" One Tem said.

The others agreed by vibrating intensely and saying: "yA!"

The Tammies got close to Chara and Frisk and started laying down around them, one crawling in Frisk's lap, like Bob had done to Chara. They all fell asleep instantly.

"Guess falling asleep fast is a Temmie thing." Chara giggled. She released Frisk's hand, and wrapped her arm around Frisk instead. "I wouldn't mind copying the Tammies right now." She yawned. She was tired from all the walking they had been doing all day, she needed a rest.

Frisk snuggled up closer to Chara. "Yeah, me too." She kissed Chara on the cheek and closed her eyes.

Chara blushed and smiled. She looked around at all the Tammies sleeping. They were adorable to her. She could see why Frisk loved this place so much. The Tammies loved to play and laugh, and it was so calm here, making her feel safe and secure. Maybe it was the cheery atmosphere, maybe it was the playful Tammies, or maybe it was just because Frisk was there with her, she didn't know. She didn't care either, all she knew was that she was happy, and that's all that mattered to her, besides Frisk of course. She closed her eyes, quickly drifting into a much needed rest.

Chara awoke before Frisk and looked down at her. Chara thought Frisk was cute when she was sleeping, and looked so peaceful. Her mouth was slightly open which made her look even cuter. Her hair was in her face and Chara brushed it to the side gently, revealing it. A round, soft face, with a slight blush. She must have been dreaming of something, because her face didn't have a natural blush like Chara's. She was so beautiful, and Chara was so happy to have Frisk in her life.

"I sure do love you." Chara whispered. Kissing the top of her head lightly. Getting a small wimper and a smile for a response.

Chara played with Frisk's hair a little. Soft, like Bob's, she loved it. Chara looked around and saw some of the Tammies had gotten up and were roaming about, some playing, others just... standing and vibrating, one was watching an egg intensely.

Not too long later, Frisk woke up and yawned.

"Welcome to the waking world," Chara said.

Frisk didn't respond, but instead hugged Chara tightly.

"Hey." She whispered. Chara let Frisk hug her, as her arms were trapped by the hug. "You know, I heard what you said awhile ago." Frisk said.

Chara blushed. "Oh, you d-did?"

"No need to be nervous about it, Chara. I love you too." Frisk giggled.

Chara smiled, she knew she didn't have to be nervous around Frisk, but the feeling still hit her.

"Are you ready to get going soon?" Chara asked.

"Yeah, I think I've had my fill of the Temmies, but one day, we'll have to come back and visit."

Chara smiled, "Of course."

They got up and said their goodbyes to the whole village and left.

The two continued to walk down the dimly lit cavern, and eventually found their way out of the area. It took awhile, as they kept getting lost in the turns that turned out to be dead ends, and the rocks that stopped illuminating themselves making the area even darker didn't help either.

Eventually they saw one echo flower at the end of a hallway, so they decided to check it out.

A sinking feeling washed over Frisk, she remembered this echo flower. Undyne would try to surprise attack them at this flower, but Monster Kid would jump in the way.

Chara wasn't too intimidated by Undyne, from her past encounters with her. She launched spears at fast speeds towards her and Frisk, which they had to run to avoid. Chara would easily avoid her spear onslaught. She vaguely remembered Undyne during her last Genocide run, and while she was tough, Chara was able to beat her. She felt bad, but luckily no one remembered her past actions... except Frisk. Chara had changed though, and with Frisk by her side, she knew she wouldn't hurt another SOUL, not even Undyne.

They walked forward, noticing it got darker and darker with each step, the only light being the bright flower. When they had reached the flower Chara listened closely: "Behind you."

The room seemed to illuminate itself immediately.

A massive figure appeared behind them, wearing a full suit of armor with a red ponytail sticking out from the top. Undyne. She brought forth a spear, and began to inch slowly to Chara and Frisk, and Chara ran in front of Frisk ready to defend her no matter what.

Undyne charged them.

9. Chapter 9: Undyne Strikes

Undyne was quickly rushing the two, and Chara was staring her down with her red eyes, Undyne could feel them piercing her SOUL, but she wasn't concerned, all she was worried about is destroying these two threats to her freedom, no, the underground's freedom. If Papyrus couldn't finish the job, than she would. As Undyne got closer and closer, she could feel the excitement swell inside her. She was ready for a heated battle against the humans. She got closer and closer, and as she was almost upon them, ready to pierce the small girl in the green shirt in front of her, she saw a small monster come out of nowhere.

"I'll help you Undyne!" A small monster child bust out of tall grass between Undyne and the two girls.

Undyne stopped dead in her tracks before she could stab the kid. Aggravated, she grabbed him by the ear and dragged him off, so he couldn't watch her FIGHT the humans or get hurt.

Chara stared dumbfounded. "Did he really just jump in front of her?" She asked.

Frisk sighed in relief, no matter how many times she would experience that, it always scared her. She didn't notice how hard she was gripping Chara's shirt, trying to hide from Undyne's charge.

Chara turned around and looked at Frisk. "That was intense." She said. "But I wasn't scared, I was ready to protect you Frisk." She said proudly. Really, she wasn't scared, she'd seen worse, but she was intimidated.

Frisk hugged Chara and laughed, "Oh, my hero!" She rested her head in the crook of Chara's neck. "I.. I was really scared you know." She said quietly.

"Yeah," she giggled. "I could feel you grabbing me. It kinda hurt."

"Oh! I-I'm sorry, I didn't mean it to!" She said raising her head to look at Chara.

"It's fine Frisk. It made me feel special, knowing that you needed me." She said, brushing some hair out of Frisk's eyes. They were so beautiful when she opened them fully. A light sea foam green that glistened in the cavern. It makes her heart skip a beat every time she sees them.

Frisk teared up slightly. "I will always need you, and don't ever think I won't!" She said. Chara wiped the small tears from Frisk's eyes, and leaned in, planting a kiss on her lips. Frisk gladly accepted it, and kissed back, tearing up a little again. She closed her eyes and enjoyed the feeling of Chara's tender lips on her own, making her melt a little.

Chara pulled back, "Let's get moving." Taking Frisk's hand.

"Aww. Already finished?" Frisk said, disappointed her kiss ended so soon.

"Yeah, I know, but Undyne could come back any moment, so we should get moving." Chara hurried forward. Frisk was about to object, and say she was actually not going to, but decided let Chara lead the way.

Chara saw a new path that see hadn't seen before, much like the dimly lit stones that led to Temmie Village, but these lead straight north. They passed a few echo flowers, but Chara was too concerned on getting far from Undyne to notice what they were saying.

She wasn't scared of facing Undyne, but she didn't want to take the chance of hurting Undyne if she attacked Frisk. She would end up killing her and Frisk would hate her for that. Chara couldn't bear the thought of Frisk hating her, so she knew, at all cost, she had to avoid getting into a FIGHT with Undyne.

Frisk hurried to catch up with Chara. Even though she was holding her hand, she had to basically drag Frisk with how fast she was walking.

She hadn't said anything else after the kiss, and just kept walking, it worried Frisk slightly.

The two reached a bridge, and Chara rushed to cross it, not wanting to look down. Ever since her fall into Mount Ebbot, she wasn't too keen on heights, or falling.

Monster Kid walked up to them, "Yo!" he yelled.

Frisk stopped, causing Chara to stop and turn around. "Frisk!" She said.

"Yo, I'm no good at this kind of thing, but Undyne said you two were humans, and that I should like, hate you and stuff..." He looked down. "So.. uh, I guess that makes us enemies.. and I uh.. hate you, and stuff." He blushed nervously.

Frisk smiled. "Don't worry, Chara and I are super nice, we aren't enemies, and we'll show Undyne too. We can be friends!"

The kid looked up, beaming. "Wow, really? Yo! That's cool!"

He ran off, but tripped and fell off the bridge, he was barely hanging on by his teeth. "Yo! I.. need help!" He said through his teeth.

"Oh no!" Frisk yelled, and ran over to help him. Chara ran over too, and they both picked him up.

"Yo... thanks.." He still looked scared. "Yo, I think I'm gonna just head home." He ran past Undyne without saying anything. Undyne had been standing there the whole time, waiting for the humans to attack the poor kid or do at least something evil... but they helped him instead and said they could be friends. These humans didn't make any sense to her. She backed away into the shadows and disappeared from sight.

"Come on Frisk, Undyne was right there. She knows we are here, we need to keep moving." Chara said grabbing her hand again and rushing forward.

Frisk didn't know why Chara was in such a rush all of the sudden. She knew that Chara could handle herself in a FIGHT, she couldn't imagine it was because she was scared, so what was it?

They didn't run for long when they saw Undyne on top on giant rock formation.

"Seven." She started. "Seven human SOULS, and King Asgore will become a God." She looked down at the two, pausing.

"Six." She continued. "That's how many we've collected thus far. Understand?" She stared them down. "We may only need one, but I can't have both of you running around the underground. So I'm just going to take both your SOULS, got it?"

Chara put her arm in front of Frisk, bracing herself for a FIGHT.

"But. As customary for those who make it this far, I shall tell you the tragic tale of our people. It all started long ago..." She paused. "You know what?" Her voice got louder. "SCREW IT! WHY SHOULD I TELL YOU THAT STORY, WHEN YOU ARE ABOUT TO DIE!?" She screamed. Her blood was boiling and her spine was tingling, she was ready for a FIGHT. She screamed again and threw her helmet off, revealing her blue scaly skin.

"You two! You're standing in the way of everyone's hopes and dreams! Alphys' history books made me think humans were cool, BUT YOU TWO! You're just cowards! Hiding behind that kid so you could run away again. You know what would be more valuable to everyone? IF YOU WERE DEAD!"

She summoned a spear. "I'll show you two how determined monsters can be!"

**_*The wind is howling, you two are filled with DETERMINATION*

>**

* * *

>**Chara stepped forward. "Alright then, Undyne, show me what you're made of." She screamed back at her. There was no running now, only a FIGHT, and Chara had to find a way to defend herself and Frisk without hurting Undyne.

"That's it! No more running away, HERE I COME!" She jumped off the rock, spear pointed downward, ready to hit Chara. She pushed Frisk, and rolled out of the way.

A battle sequence started.

Undyne cloaked them in a green aura, causing their SOULS to become... green.

"As long as you are green, you can't escape!" She laughed. Undyne attacked them by throwing spears from all directions, which they avoided, but just barely. She laughed at their attempt.

"Unless you learn to face danger head-on, you'll never survive!" Fufufufu!"

A green shield appeared in both Chara and Frisk's hands that seemed to be linked to their SOULS.

Undyne through more spear attacks at them and Chara knew exactly what to do. She jumped in front of Frisk and hit the spear coming for her away with her shield, and did the same with other oncoming spears. Frisk did the same. The two were impressive. Chara took the North and East facing attacks, while Frisk took the South and West. They smacked the spears away from them flawlessly. They knew exactly how to face danger head on.

Undyne noticed and was slightly impressed, but she caught herself. She didn't want to be impressed by the humans, and that made her angry. She slashed her spear and sent a wave of red aura through Chara and Frisk, causing their shields to disappear and their SOULS to turn red.

Frisk noticed this and grabbed Chara's hand. "Let's go!" she yelled, and started to run away from Undyne.

Chara was surprised, Undyne had just told them they couldn't escape. "Frisk, I thought we couldn't leave! Did she lie?"

"No! Our SOULS turned back to red, so we can run! Now go!" Frisk kept running and Chara ran along with her.

Undyne noticed they were running away and sprinted towards them, grabbing both Frisk and Chara and throwing them down.

Chara kicked Undyne in the armor, causing her to stagger, but not get hurt. She slashed her spear and a wave of green aura fired, Chara and Frisk couldn't escape again. She launched more attacks, and Chara raised her shield and saw that Frisk was still on the ground. She ran towards her and blocked the spears coming towards her so she could get up. A spear barely nicked Chara's arm and sent her HP to 18/20. Frustrated, she knocked the next spear with her shield directly at Undyne dealing one damage to her. This made her angry again.

"YOU BRAT!" She sliced her spear again. Frisk and Chara ran.

_***Ring Ring***_

Frisk opened her phone while running.

"You're answering a call now!?" Chara yelled.

"HELLO HUMAN! I THINK WE SHOULD ALL MEET UP AT UNDYNE'S HOUSE AND HANG OUT! SHE WOULD LOVE YOU GUYS!" Papyrus hung up quickly.

Frisk put away the phone and kept running.

They made it to Hotland (If the name wasn't obvious by the sign) and saw Sans sleeping at his post. Chara decided to ignore him, since he wouldn't do much anyways and kept running, eventually having to stop and catch her breath across the bridge. Frisk followed shortly, with Undyne right behind. She slowed down to a halt.

"..Armor... too... hot..." She fainted.

Chara saw a conveniently placed water cooler near them, and filled a cup with cool water and drank it.

Frisk looked at her. "What?" She said defensively.

"We should give her some, Chara, look at her." Frisk said.

"She tried to hurt me, but more importantly, she tried to hurt you, no, she tried to KILL you!" Chara said angrily.

"So have a couple of monsters, but we've seen that being nice works!" Frisk said equally as angry Chara would comply.

"But they haven't gone out of their way to hurt you, they were just confused!" Chara said.

"We can't treat her any different Chara! She's doing what she thinks is right, and we're supposed to show her we are super nice and can be friends!" Frisk was getting impatient. She couldn't believe Chara was acting this way.

Chara stared at Frisk for a moment. It was obvious Frisk was mad at her, and she couldn't stand it. She didn't want Frisk to be mad at her, but she didn't want to SPARE Undyne after seeing her mercilessly attack Frisk like that.

"Fine." Chara spat out. She filled the cup up with cool water and poured it on Undyne.

She got up and looked at Chara and Frisk. She didn't want to believe these two helped her, but she didn't want to FIGHT either. It was too hot... she decided they had won, and walked off in defeat.

Chara looked at Frisk, but she wasn't looking back at her. She walked over to her and reached out her hand and tried to touch her, but she moved.

"Why was it so hard for you to show her MERCY, Chara?" Frisk said without looking at her.

"Frisk, she wanted to take you away from me, and kill you-"

"She wanted to do the same to you, don't make it about me!" She exploded at her.

"F-frisk... I." Chara started to cry. "It is about you though! I want to protect you! I want you to be there with me! I...I.." She kept crying.

Frisk looked at her and instantly felt awful. She was too harsh to Chara. "Chara. I'm sorry, I shouldn't have yelled at you." She said.

She took Chara in a loving embrace and hugged her tightly.

"Frisk.. I'm so sorry, I should've shown her MERCY with no problem... I'm no good for you... I-" She was cut off by Frisk putting a finger to her lips.

"No, I'm sorry. I understand Chara. I shouldn't have expected you to SPARE her so easily. I'm just glad you did in the end."

"I just don't want to lose you Frisk. I love you more than anything." Chara cried into Frisk's shoulder.

"And I love you more anything, Chara. And we'll be together forever, no matter what." She rubbed Chara's back.

Chara sniffled. "Promise?"

"Promise." Frisk smiled.

Frisk let go of Chara, and she wiped the tears off her face, and took her hand.

"Let's get going." Frisked smiled at Chara.

Chara smiled back. "Where ever you go, I go."

10. Chapter 10: The Lab

Hey guys! Big milestone, eh? The big 10! I didn't think I'd make it to 10, honestly. I figured that I was gonna write a short story, and end quickly, or that I was gonna get negative comments so I'd just stop it. But no! I've gotten so many nice comments and followers cause of this fic! You people are all so amazing. Anywho, basically, this note is a big thank you. Love you guys sooooo much! ~p.s. One more thing! I do realize LOVE stands for Level of Violence in Undertale, but I have my own acronym for it. Lots of Various Emotions. Cheesy, yeah, but isn't that what love is? Anywho, on to the chapter...

>It didn't take long for the girls to see the giant building at the entrance of the Hotland. It was incredibly tall, and pale white, with giant circular red windows on either side of it. Neither of them had to guess what it was, seeing the giant red letters that spelled out: LAB on the front.

Chara could faintly remember this place. She didn't spend much time here on previous runs, but she did remember meeting a robot, though she couldn't place whom. Recently, she noticed, she has had trouble remembering older timelines, as if Frisk's RESET, wiped her memory as well. Chara stopped moving before they could walk into the Lab.

"Chara? You okay?" Frisk turned around and looked at Chara.

She let go of Frisk's hands. "Frisk, do you remember everything that happens after you RESET?"

Frisk was surprised, she didn't know exactly how to respond. Chara had never brought this up before, why now? "Um, sometimes my memory is a little foggy, but mostly, yes."

"So why can I barely remember my past? I get bits and pieces of things." Chara wasn't mad because of this, but she was genuinely confused.

"Well, maybe you are like me, but you lose a little more, because you aren't the one RESETing? I have no clue, honestly." Frisk responded.

Chara thought about it. It made sense, but she was hoping for a clearer answer. "Alright, I was just wondering Frisk." She grabbed her hand again. "Let's get moving then!" She said, walking forward.

The girls entered the Lab and noticed the lights were turned off.

"Should we come back later?" Chara whispered.

"No, we can keep moving." They walked a small ways, only to see a giant computer with... them on the screen.

"They have cameras in here?" Chara looked around, but didn't see anything. It was still dark. She observed herself. She hadn't looked in a mirror (Or in this case a giant screen) in a long time. Her hair was slightly frizzy, her shirt was dirty and torn, and her face was slightly dirty as well. She hadn't realized she looked like that, and she was embarrassed of herself.

Frisk looked at herself, and noticed she was dirty, and gross. She hadn't realized it before, and wondered why Chara never commented on it. She blushed.

"Why the sudden blush, Frisk?" Chara asked.

"Why didn't you tell me I looked so gross.."

"Because you don't!" Chara grinned. "In fact, I think you look extremely beautiful."

Frisk blushed harder and smiled. "Oh, don't lie, I'm all gross."

Chara grabbed her and tipped her over suddenly taking Frisk by surprise. She looked Frisk dead in the eye, "I would never lie about that." In as serious of a tone as she could muster. Chara started in grin, and eventually started laughing, Frisk joined in.

Chara picked themself and Frisk back up. "Anyways Frisk, do you happen to know where the light switch is?" She looked around again, but saw nothing.

Before Frisk could speak, they heard the sound of a door opening, and the lights flicked on. They saw a yellow, reptilian like monster in a lab coat. Frisk knew exactly who it was, but didn't want to say anything to avoid Alphys getting freaked out.

She looked at them and became wide-eyed. "Oh! My god! I didn't expect you two so soon!" She started to fidget in place. "I haven't showered, I'm barely dressed, its dirty, and.." She stared at the girls. Realizing she hadn't introduced herself. "H-h-hiya! I'm Dr. Alphys. I'm Asgore's Royal Scientist!" She looked nervous. "B-b-but, I'm not one of the 'bad guys'!" she said quickly. "Actually, since you two stepped out of the RUINS, I've been, 'observing' your journey through my console. Your fights, your friendships, everything!"

Chara stared at her and became angry. "Wait, you've been watching us?!" She yelled.

"U-um! Yeah! Originally, I was going to stop you, but watching someone on a screen really makes you root for them, you know? Using my knowledge, I can easily guide you through Hotland!" Alphys said, getting even more nervous after seeing Chara's reaction.

Chara wasn't focused on what she said. She was mad this stranger was watching her and Frisk. That means she saw everything. Every kiss, every tear, every night... everything. She looked over at Frisk, who was smiling at Alphys. Chara wondered why Frisk could be so calm in the presence of this... stalker.

Alphys kept babbling about something, but Chara wasn't listening.

"I know a way straight to Asgore's castle!" she continued.

Chara had enough. "I don't want any help from you!" She blurted out. Frisk looked at her, concerned. She didn't know what was wrong with Chara. "I-I'm sorry! Is something wrong?" Alphys asked.

Chara stared at her in disbelief, and then at Frisk. "Frisk! Do you not see what's wrong here! Shes been watching us! Seeing everything Frisk! That doesn't concern you at all?" Chara was still extremely angry.

Frisk stared at Chara, and was intimidated by the way she looked. She was genuinely angry with Alphys, and her face was getting red with anger.

"Oh! I- I'm sorry! But don't worry, I actually only saw your encounters with other monsters, and Papyrus and Undyne. Not much else!" She said quickly, getting nervous and blushing.

Chara calmed down slightly, but not much. "What do you mean, 'not much else'?" She asked

"Um well. I uh, saw you two b-building a snowman and battling Papyrus and Undyne, and the Temmie Village.." She said.

"Did you see us do anything else?" She was really wanting to know if she saw their kissing.

"M-maybe, just.. one or two k-kisses. But! You two are cute together!" Alphys, Chara, and Frisk all blushed.

"Thank you Alphys." Frisk said nicely.

"That doesn't excuse you watching us!" Chara said.

"L-look, I'm s-sorry! I promise I won't do it anymore, but it's my job to look out for humans, and w-well.. you two were different. I had to keep watching you." She looked sad. "I'm truly s-sorry."

Chara calmed down. She looked at Frisk and took a deep breath. "It's fine, Alphys, as long as you please don't do that anymore. I prefer privacy." She said.

Frisk smiled. She was glad Chara had calmed down and treated Alphys nicer. She was half worried Chara would snap on Alphys, especially after what just happened with Undyne.

"I'm sorry too, Alphys. Please, continue on what you were saying." Chara said. She was still bothered by all of the watching, but let it go, for Frisk.

"O-oh! Yeah! Anyways, but there might be a problem. See, long ago, I built a human fighting robot, Mettaton. Originally, I had built him to be an entertainment robot, uh, you know, like a robotic TV star or something. Recently, I decided to make him more useful by adding... anti.. anti-human features. Of c-course, when I saw the two of you coming, I immediately thought, 'I have to get rid of those features!'" She said, getting a little nervous. "And I uh, may have made a mistake in doing so. So now h-he's a uh, unstoppable killing machine with a thirst for human blood.." She looked down. "So, um, hopefully we won't run into him!" She looked around.

Chara remembered that name. Mettaton. That was the robot she remembered. She couldn't get an exact image of him in her head, but she remembered something about it being... photogenic?

_***TWAANG* **_

They had heard a metallic sound coming from the wall. Like someone was clanging metal together.

_***TWAANG***_

"D-did you hear something?" Alphys said, not seeming worried.

Frisk looked at the wall, not worried either, while Chara, on the other hand, was getting ready for something big. She tensed up, and put her arm over Frisk, like during the FIGHT with Undyne. Frisk smiled knowing Chara was getting ready to protect her.

**_TWAANG TWANNG TWANNG TWANNG TWANNG*_**

The sound got louder and slightly faster.

"Oh no."

Something burst through the wall, screaming, "OHHH YES!" In a deep manly robotic voice.

>It was silent for a moment, as the dust settled. "Welcome, beauties.." He said.Chara and Frisk got a good look at the giant rectangle with a microphone in his hands.

"Mettaton.." Chara whispered.

"To today's game show!" He yelled. A sign that said GAME SHOW in neon colors came from the ceiling, along with confetti, and streamers, and two neon disco balls "Oh boy! I can already tell it's going to be a great show!" He said. "Everybody give a big hand to our wonderful contestants!" He started to clap loudly, and you could hear it echo throughout the Lab. "Never played before beauties?" He raised his hand in the air, "No problem! It's simple!" He held up a one with his hand. "There is only one rule! Answer correctly..." He threw the microphone. "...or you DIE!"

A battle sequence started. (Sorry darling, but this time, its a _QUIZ SHOW!_)

>*Applause***

Mettaton appeared in front of the two, his microphone was back. Chara looked around, and saw they weren't in a normal battle, there were stage lights, cameras, and an answer board with A, B, C, and D options. No question was on it quite yet.

They selected MERCY.

"Let's start with an easy one!" He pulled over to the side, and the answer board flashed.

>A: MoneyB: Mercy

>C: New CarD: More Questions

Chara stared dumbfounded, she couldn't believe what she was seeing. Frisk, on the other hand, looked excited and happy. Seeing Frisk made Chara smile.

Alphys waved the attention of Chara and Frisk and made a D symbol with her hands. Chara was confused, but Frisk selected D, and Mettaton clapped his hands.

"That's right! Sounds like you get it!" He said excitedly.

Frisk looked and Chara and smiled big. Chara understood what Alphys was doing now, she was giving them the answer!

"Here's your terrific prize!"

**WHAT'S THE KINGS FULL NAME?**

- >A: Lord FluffybunsB: Fuzzy Pushover
- >C: Asgore DreemurrD: Dr. Friendship

Chara didn't need help on this one, she knew her dad's name. She selected C, quickly.

"Correct! What a terrific answer!" Mettaton yelled. "Enough about you. Lets talk about me!"

**WHAT ARE ROBOTS MADE OF?**

- >A: Hopes & DreamsB: Metal & Magic
- >C: Snips & SnailsD: Sugar & Spice

Frisk saw the question and the answer choices and laughed, clicking B, as that was the only one that made sense. Chara found answer choice D the funniest.

"Too easy for you huh?" Mettaton yelled. "Well, here's another easy one for you two!"

**TWO TRAINS, TRAIN A AND TRAIN B, SIMULTANEOUSLY DEPART STATION A AND STATION B. STATION A AND STATION B ARE 252.5 MILES APART FROM EACH OTHER. TRAIN A IS MOVING AT 124.7 MPH TOWARDS STATION B, AND TRAIN B IS MOVING AT 253.5 MPH TOWARDS STATION A. IF BOTH TRAINS DEPARTED AT 10:00 A.M. AND IT IS NOW 10:08, HOW MUCH LONGER UNTIL BOTH TRAINS PASS EACH OTHER?**

- >A: 31.054 MinutesB: 16.232 Minutes
- >C: 32.049 MinutesD: 32.058 Minutes

Chara didn't even know how to respond. Mettaton had read the question so fast, she only heard train. Frisk looked just as confused and stared at Alphys. She looked at the problem for two seconds and signed D with her hands. Frisk pressed D.

"Wonderful! I'm astounded folks!" Mettaton yelled. "But don't 'count' on your victory!"

**HOW MANY FLIES ARE IN THIS JAR? _ *Mettaton holds up small jar full of flies*_**

- >A: 54B: 53
- >C: 55D: 52

Chara thought this was getting ridiculous at this point. What was his goal? To ask as many unfair question as possible? She thought about that. "Yeah, I guess so." She said to herself.

Alphys signed A with her hands. Chara selected A.

"Correct! You're so lucky today! Now, let's play a memory game!"

**WHICH MONSTER IS THIS? _ *The answer board showed a close up of a froggit's face*_*

>A: FroggitB: Whimsun
>C: MoldsmalD: Mettaton

Chara laughed. "Easy!" She said and selected A. She was zapped by Mettaton's laser. It sent a shock throughout her body and brought her health to 15/20.

"Chara!" Frisk yelled.

The answer board zoomed out to show a picture of Mettaton wearing a Froggit T-shirt.

"Oh! Sorry darling, that's incorrect!" He laughed.

Chara was shocked, but she stayed strong and was ready for the next question. She was mad at Mettaton, but she knew he rules of the game.

**WOULD YOU SMOOCH A GHOST?
> A: Heck yeah
>B: Heck yeahC: Heck yeah
>D: Heck yeah

Frisk winked and selected C. Chara and Alphys looked at each other in confusion.

"Great answer, I love it!" Mettaton yelled. "Time to break out the big guns!"

**IN THE DATING SIMULATOR "MEW MEW KISSY CUITE" WHAT IS MEW MEW'S FAVORITE FOOD?**

The answer choices didn't have time to appear before Alphys got up screaming, "OH! OH! I KNOW THIS ONE! ITS SNAIL ICE CREAM!" She started going on a long speech about the meaning of friendship found in the game and love.

Mettaton stared at Alphys. "Alphys, Alphys, Alphys. You aren't helping our contestant, are you? OOOH! You should've told me! I'll ask a question, you'll be SURE to know the answer to!"

**WHO DOES DR. ALPHYS HAVE A CRUSH ON?**
>A: UndyneB: Asgore
>C: Either HumanD: Don't Know

Frisk and Chara looked at Alphys. She was extremely red and her hands were covering her face. Chara took a random guess and selected A.

"CORRECT!" Mettaton yelled. He went on and on about Alphys having a big crush on Undyne and all the things she says about her, Alphys was a nervous wreck.

Mettaton then continued. "Well! With Dr. Alphys helping you, the show has no dramatic tension! We can't go on like this! But. BUT! This was just the pilot episode! Next up, more drama! More romance! More bloodshed! Until next time darlings!" Mettaton literally rocketed out of the Lab.

Alphys looked at the two. "Well. That was certainly something."

Chara looked at Frisk and giggled. "Frisk, that was so much fun! But... it was so confusing." Chara said.

Frisk laughed. "Yeah, it was awesome!" She grabbed Chara's hand.

"Lets go! We've got a lot more ahead."

Chara smiled, "Alright Frisk." Before they could leave, Alphys upgraded their phones and signed them up for a social media site, and sent them off.

_***The fun you two had in Mettaton's game show fills you with DETERMINATION***_

>Hey Guys! Long chapter, but I did literally just fill in the Game Show. I decided not to make it completely original, for the plain and simple fact that I didn't feel like coming up with questions, so sorry if the chapter is boring because of it! Not a very special milestone chapter.. huh? Anywho, hope you enjoyed! LOVE YOU GUYS!

11. Chapter 11: Befriending the Enemy

Not long after they had left the Lab had Alphys started updating her status, flooding the girls' phones with notifications. They decided to ignore them so they could focus on the Hotland. It was less than safe for the two to be there. To get across platforms, they had to stand on vents of super concentrated air that would propel them forward.

"Frisk! I don't care how many times either of us have done this!" Chara said, staring at the vent in front of her. "There is no way I am doing this, it freaks me out! What if we get hurt, or thrown into the lava!"

Frisk didn't respond, stepped on the vent and was launched across. "Look Chara! Easy!" Frisk said.

Chara stared at her. "No! I'm not going to." Chara crossed her arms.

Frisk didn't know how to convince Chara. She thought for a moment, and then had an idea, a devious grin spreading across her face. "Oh well, Chara. I guess you'll have to stay here. Alone." She stressed the alone on purpose. "While I go ahead, and possibly get hurt without you to protect me! I need you!" Frisk started to walk forward. She added the "I need you" because she knew that was her ace in the hole.

Chara stared at her. There was no way she was going to be alone, and certainly no way she was going to let get hurt. "Frisk, wait!" She jumped on the vent and was launched across. She ran towards Frisk and hugged her from behind.

"Over your fear yet?" Frisk giggled.

"I was never scared!" Chara lied.

"Than what was that all about?" Frisk smiled, Chara hugging her tight.

Chara had a evil grin on her face. "Making sure you needed me, that's all!" Chara kissed Frisk's cheek gently.

Frisk knew she was lying, but didn't care. "I will always need you Chara."

Before the scene could get romantic, the moment was ruined by Frisk's phone ringing.

**_*RING RING*_**

"Alphys sure did make our phones loud with her, 'upgrade.'" Chara complained, and let go of Frisk.

Frisk looked at her phone.

_*Papyrus is calling* _

While she didn't like how loud the phones were now, she did like the Caller I.D., as Alphys called it. She opened the phone and answered.

"Hey Papyrus! How are you?" She answered happily.

"Put it on speaker," Chara said. Frisk selected the speaker option.

"HUMAN!" Papyrus said. "I AM FINE, AS ALWAYS! IS CHARA WITH YOU?"

"Greetings Papyrus, I'm here." Chara responded.

"GREAT! NOW I CAN TELL BOTH OF YOU AT THE SAME TIME." He continued.
"HUMAN, DO YOU REMEMBER MY CALL FROM AWHILE BACK REGARDING UNDYNE?" He asked.

Chara looked at Frisk questioningly. "Yes, I do, about going to her house?" Frisk said.

"But Frisk!" Chara started, but was interrupted by Papyrus.

"WELL, I THINK WE SHOULD DO THAT RIGHT NOW! MEET ME IN SNOWDIN!" Papyrus said, hanging up before they could answer him.

Chara crossed her arms as Frisk put away her phone.

"Lets go!" Frisk said. She held out her hand for Chara to grab, but she didn't. "Is something wrong?"

"Frisk. We can't go see Undyne! Are you mad? Or did you already forget what she tried to do to yo-To us?" Chara said looking at her disapprovingly.

"Chara, this is our chance to reconcile with her. We can show her we are friends!" Frisk smiled patiently at Chara. She knew Chara didn't like Undyne, but she was going to get them to be friends. "Besides Chara, I bet you'll really like her when you get to know her!"

Chara looked at Frisk smiling at her. That smile could make her day no matter what, and it was hard being mad looking at it. She uncrossed her arms, and grabbed Frisk's hand. She sighed. "Okay Frisk, I believe you. I will try to be her friend, but if she attacks us—" Chara started.

"She won't." Frisk interrupted her. "I promise it will go well." Frisk said, giving Chara another smile.

The smile warmed Chara's heart, more so than Hotland ever could, and she squeezed Frisk's hand. "I can't wait then." She said, smiling back at her.

_***Time Skip***_

"YOU'RE HERE!" Papyrus said gleefully. He clapped his hands.

"Ready to go?" Frisk said.

Papyrus looked them up and down. "HMM.. SOMETHING ISN'T RIGHT.." He stared harder. "YOU TWO ARE FILTHY!" He finally said, after a thorough inspection. "WE CAN'T GO SEE UNDYNE WITH YOU TWO LIKE THIS. COME INSIDE!" He ran towards the door super fast and opened it for them. Frisk admitted that they hadn't changed clothes or showered for awhile, they were just too busy.

Papyrus ran upstairs and ran a bath. "WE MUST GO QUICKLY, SO YOU TWO WILL NEED TO BATHE TOGETHER!" He said coming out of the bathroom. "I WILL GET SANS TO GET YOU SOME CLOTHES."

As he walked away in search for clothes, Chara looked at Frisk. She was madly red in the face.

"Frisk, you alright?" She asked.

"B-bathe together?" Frisk stuttered nervously. She had never bathed with someone before, and definitely not Chara.

"It's fine Frisk! Just wash and get out." Chara said.

"But.. we'll be... you know..." Frisk said quietly.

Chara hadn't thought about that, and blushed too. "Well. If you, um, want me to not look or something.. that's fine."

Before Frisk could answer, Papyrus came running down the stairs. "SANS YOU LAZY BONES, I HAVE TO DO EVERYTHING! HUMANS, I WILL BE BACK WITH SOME CLOTHES!" He rushed out of the house, as Sans walked downstairs.

"heh. told him to go all the way to tori's. so, whatcha two doin here?" He asked, yawning.

Frisk was still flustered and didn't answer Sans. Chara spoke up.

"Papyrus wanted us all to go talk with Undyne."

"ah. say, what's wrong with frisk?" He said, looking at her.

Chara blushed. "Um, ah.. well. Papyrus said we needed to take a bath together, and she's a little nervous."

Frisk looked up and grabbed Chara's hand. She was filled with DETERMINATION!

She got up and dragged Chara to the bathroom.

"heh. wonder what that was about." Sans said, sitting on the couch, pulling a bottle of ketchup from his jacket and drinking it.

The bathroom was warm and the bathtub looked inviting. The clear water was warm, and steam arose off of it's glistening surface. Frisk wondered why Sans or Papyrus would need a bath tub, did skeleton's get dirty?

Frisk slowly took off her clothes. "C-Chara.. turn around."

Chara was wide eyed and her face was redder than a tomato. "Oh, y-yeah."

She turned around and undressed herself. Chara stepped into the tub and let the warm water surround her, relaxing her nerves and giving her a sense of calm. That is, until she saw Frisk. Her heart skipped so many beats she thought she'd die right there. Somehow, she was even more beautiful now, with nothing on.

Frisk stepped into the tub and felt the warm water. She sighed. "You staring at me like that is not making me comfortable, you know." Frisk was red, she pulled her knees up to her chest and held onto them.

Chara turned away, "S-sorry Frisk. You're just so beautiful." Chara's heart was still racing.

Frisk smiled, and was flattered Chara found her so pretty. "Not as beautiful as you.." She said quietly.

They heard a knock on the door. "HUMANS!" Followed by heavy breathing.

"Yes Papyrus?" Chara called back.

"I.. GOT YOUR.. *huff* CLOTHES! *puff* THEY ARE OUTSIDE... THE DOOR..." Papyrus said.

Frisk giggled softly at Papyrus, "Could you set them in here?" Frisk called back.

From the other side of the door, Papyrus blushed. "BUT... YOU TWO ARE.."

"It's fine, Papyrus, just close your eyes and set them down for us!" Chara said, giggling as well.

It was silent for a moment, and then they heard the door open slowly, and Papyrus walked in with one hand covering his eye sockets, and the other with their clothes. He knelled down and set the clothes on the floor. "HERE THEY ARE!" He said, quickly running out the bathroom. Shutting the door. Chara and Frisk laughed at Papyrus' nervousness.

"Well, Frisk, we shouldn't keep him waiting, lets clean up and get out." Chara said, grabbing the soap next to her.

"Y-yeah."

The two washed and rinsed themselves off and got out of the tub. Chara couldn't help but get a few side glances and Frisk. She was too pretty to not look at. They grabbed separate towels and dried off. They put on their clothes, and walked out.

Frisk was still red, and Chara was smiling. Chara leaned in close and whispered, "We should do that again." Flirting with Frisk.

"C-Chara!" Frisk said.

Papyrus looked at the two and smiled. "YOU TWO ARE FINISHED! LET'S GO!" Getting up from the couch with Sans, and running to the door.

Chara grabbed Frisk's hand.

**_*Another Time Skip**_**

"STAND BEHIND ME! I DIDN'T ACTUALLY TELL HER YOU TWO WERE COMING OVER!" Papyrus said.

Chara got wide eyed. She thought Undyne knew they were coming, what was she going to do when she saw them in her own home uninvited?

"Frisk, this doesn't seem like a good idea anymore!" Chara said.

"Why all the sudden you don't want to go?"

"I didn't know she wasn't aware we were coming!"

"It will be fine, don't worry." Frisk reassured her.

"OH, AND GIVE HER ONE OF THESE!" Papyrus held up a bone wrapped in yellow with a red bow. "SHE LOVES THESE" He handed it to Frisk.

He knocked on her door.

Chara took a moment to look at her house. It looked like a giant fish with impressive sizing teeth as the door. The fish had giant scales and windows that resembled big evil eyes.

The door opened and Undyne was standing there, looking at Papyrus. She didn't notice the girls. She smiled wide. "Hi, Papyrus! Ready for your extra private, one-on-one training?"

Papyrus smiled wide, as always. "YOU BET I AM! AND I BROUGHT SOME FRIENDS!" Papyrus moved to the side to reveal Frisk and Chara standing there.

"Hi, I don't think we've..." She looked at them and realized who they were. She became angry, but looked at Papyrus. She didn't want to blow her cool in front of him. "Why dont. You three. Come in." She said through gritted teeth.

Chara took Frisk's hand, feeling intimidated.

They walked in.

Undyne had a very cozy looking home. She had her kitchen, complete with a big stove and a large fridge and sink, with a long counter. Her table, which had no chairs but comfortable sitting pillows was in front of the kitchen. (I don't care if it is actually stools, just read the story) To the left was a large black piano, Chara wondered if Undyne was good at playing. Her wallpaper was blue with pink fish, and she had tiled floors.

"LOOK UNDYNNE! MY FRIENDS BROUGHT YOU A GIFT ON THEIR OWN!" Frisk handed Undyne the wrapped bone. She knew it was really from Papyrus.

"Uh... thanks, I'll put it with the others." She opened a drawer full of the bones and threw it in.

"So are we ready to start?" She said impatiently.

Papyrus looked to the side suspiciously. "WHOOPSIE DOOPSIE. I JUST REMEMBERED, I HAVE TO USE THE BATHROOM. YOU THREE HAVE FUN!" He sprinted towards the window and did a spectacular flip right out of it, leaving everyone stunned.

Undyne looked at them. She didn't feel angry anymore, but instead, she felt sad. "So, why are you two here? Come to run your victory in my face? To humiliate me even further? IS THAT IT?" She yelled at them.

"No Undyne! We came here to talk to you, and be friends!" Frisk spoke up. Chara didn't want to talk.

"I don't want to be friends with either of you brats." Undyne spat out.

Chara was about to say something, when she heard Papyrus. "WELL, I GUESS I THOUGHT YOU COULD I BE FRIENDS! I WAS WRONG, I GUESS UNDYNNE WASN'T UP FOR THE CHALLENGE!" He said, then he ran off.

"CHALLENGE!" Undyne roared. "You think I can't be friends with these two? HA!" She laughed. "I make them so in love with me, they'll feel so STUPID for their previous actions! It's the perfect revenge!"

Chara didn't know how to react. Frisk giggled.

"Why don't you two have a seat!" She said politely, gesturing to the table.

They sat down, and realized the pillows were extremely comfortable.

"Comfortable? Let me get you girls something to drink!" She placed items on her counter. Sugar, Soda, Tea, and Hot Chocolate. Chara barely moved, when suddenly Undyne threw a spear at the table, scaring Chara.

"HEY! DON'T MOVE, YOU'RE THE GUEST, SIT DOWN AND BE COMFORTABLE!" She reassessed herself quickly, calming down. "Why don't you just point to what you want, you can use the spear."

Chara's heart was pounding, but Frisk held her hand to calm her down and gave her a warm smile. "What do you want Chara?"

"Hot chocolate sounds pretty good.." Chara said.

Frisk pointed towards the hot chocolate. "You want Hot Chocolate? Wait. Wait. I forgot, that container's empty. I stopped buying it because it was such a hassle! Asgore kept getting the marshmallows stuck in his beard!" She laughed.

Frisk pointed towards the tea, raising an eyebrow at Chara. "Yeah, that's fine too."

"...tea huh? Coming right up!" She made them the tea, and brought over their cups, and sat down across from them. Chara took a sip. It was scalding hot, but other than that, it was delicious. She could faintly remember the taste of the tea, it reminded her of something.

"Hey.." Undyne said after some silence. "It's kinda strange you chose THAT tea. Golden Flower Tea... It's Asgore's favorite."

Chara could remember now. She used to drink this tea with Asgore, Toriel and... Asriel... after a long day, and tell stories,

"Actually, now that I think about it," Undyne continued. "You two kind of remind me of him." She laughed. "You're both total weenies!" "...sort of." She sighed. "Y'know. I was a pretty hot headed kid. Once, to prove I was the strongest, I tried to FIGHT Asgore. Emphasis on TRIED. I couldn't land a single blow on him!" She looked to the side. "And what's worse, he refused to FIGHT back the entire time. I was so humiliated..."

She looked down, but remembered something and looked right back up. "And then, he said something goofy.." She giggled slightly and mocked Asgore in a deep voice, "'Excuse me, would you like to know how to defeat me?' I said yes, and from then on, he trained me! One day, during practice, I finally knocked him down. I felt... bad. But he was beaming! I had never seen someone so proud to get their butt kicked!" She laughed a little more. "Anyway, long story short, he kept training me, and now I'm the head of the Royal Guard."

The girls had already known that, from Papyrus, but kept listening.

"So I'm the one who gets to train dorks to FIGHT!" Her smile faltering. "... like, uh, Papyrus. But.. to be honest, I don't know if I can ever let him into the Royal Guard." She looked at them, and quickly said, "Don't tell him I said that! He's just... he's too... it's not that he's not strong, he's actually pretty freaking TOUGH! It's just that, he's... just.. too innocent and nice! I mean, LOOK, he was supposed to capture you, and instead ended up being friends with you two! I could never send him into battle. That's part of why, I started teaching him to cook. So maybe he can do something else with his life."

Chara became sad upon hearing this. She knew it was Papyrus's dream to be in the Royal Guard, and now she knew he never stood a chance.

"I'm sorry. I can't do this." Undyne started. "I tried my hardest! I can't be friends with you two.. I'm not a good hostess."

"Why not Undyne?" Frisk asked.

"It's obvious you two are intimidated by me, there is no way you'd want to be my friend."

Chara actually spoke before Frisk could.

"Undyne, we would love to be friends with you! Let's put the past behind us and just all be friends, what do you say?"

Undyne looked at the girls and laughed, but it wasn't a sarcastic laugh, it was a laugh from the heart. "Alright you dorks! I'll be your friend!" She got up excitedly. "AND I'LL BE THE BEST FRIEND YOU'LL EVER HAVE!" She laughed even more, triumphantly.

The girls had wished Undyne a farewell, and headed to the direction of the River Person to take them back to Hotland.

Frisk pulled closer to Chara and grabbed her arm, wrapping her hands around it, trying to get as close to Chara as she could. "I'm so happy you want to be friends with her, Chara. I knew you'd give her a chance." Frisk said happily.

Chara smiled and blushed slightly. "She wasn't bad once we got to know her." Chara said. "I'm just happy you are happy, Frisk."

She turned around quickly, surprising Frisk, making her let go of Chara's arm. She grabbed Frisk's waist and pulled her in close, making Frisk turn red.

"And that's all that matters to me." She said, getting closer to Frisk's face. "I love you," she whispered, and kissed Frisk gently on the lips.

Frisk hugged Chara close and kissed back, closing her eyes, and letting the warmth she felt flow through her body. She was in paradise and never wanted to release this kiss.

The gentle sounds of the Waterfall area and the beautiful lights added to it all, making this their best kiss so far.

12. Chapter 12: Entering Hotland

Chara stared at the vent in front of her, Frisk was already moving ahead, leaving her didn't realize Chara wasn't following her until she turned around to ask her a question.

"Hey Chara how about-" She looked around, and saw her on the first platform. "Chara! I thought we talked about this!"

"Yeah.. I know, its just." Chara couldn't find the will to step on the vent.

"Guess I'll just go ahead then. It was fun knowing you!" Frisk started walking away.

"Frisk!" Chara yelled, and stepped on the vent, using the air to jet across, and ran to catch up with her. She grabbed her arm and walked close. "Stop walking ahead!" She said.

"Well, I've got to think of some way to get you to step on the vents!" Frisk laughed.

Ahead they saw a long line of self propelling tracks, moving at a rather fast pace. There were pipes scattered across, spewing giant bursts of steam. Frisk stopped before stepping on the track, causing Chara to stop as well.

"Something wrong?" Chara asked.

Frisk was staring ahead, not moving. "Frisk?" Chara asked again.

Frisk was silent and still, like a statue.

Chara poked Frisk's cheek. "Frisk?" She was starting to get concerned.

Frisk was thinking about her past run. So many unpleasant memories washed over her at once. Dread, fear, sadness, and anger. She was angry at herself for ever doing something so stupid, but then she thought of Chara, and thought maybe killing everyone was a good decision. Chara was the best thing that ever happened to her, sure, but the memory of killing all her friends killed her on the inside.

"Frisk!" Chara yelled, trying to get Frisk to move.

She snapped out of it , and looked at Chara. "I need to talk to you about something." Frisk finally said.

"Sure, anything! You worried me you know, with the not moving and all!" Chara said, hugging Frisk's arm tighter.

>Frisk stepped on the tracks, and they started moving forward.

"You know what I had to do to SAVE you right?" Frisk asked.

Chara was taken aback by the weird question. "Well, yes, I do. What about it?"

"Sometimes I wonder if it was a mistake." Frisk said.

Chara became offended and let go of Frisk's arm. "W-what do you mean?"

Frisk didn't realize what she had said, and grabbed Chara's hands. "Not because of you, don't worry. You are the best thing that has ever happened in my life."

Chara smiled. "What do you mean then Frisk?"

"The memories are so hard to deal with. I can see my friends dying in my dreams, or should I say nightmares, and every time we get into a FIGHT with a monster, I can recall killing it. It hurts dealing with it all." Frisk started to tear up. "Sometimes I wish I hadn't!" She started to cry. "But then I would've never met you, Chara!"

Chara pulled Frisk close to her and hugged her. "It's okay Frisk. I understand how you feel, trust me." She ran her hand through Frisk's hair. Frisk hugged her tightly. "It's over now, though, and you don't have to ever worry about it ever again. I'm here with you, your friends are all here with you." Chara said, kissing the top of Frisk's forehead. "And we'll always be together, remember? Through thick and thin."

Frisk faced Chara and wiped away her own tears. Chara was worth it. She loved her. All the heartache, the pain, all of it, was for her, and Frisk was happy she'd done it. The end of the track was nearing, and Frisk let go of Chara to prepare to get off.

"Thank you Chara. I don't know what I'd do without you." Frisk said, jumping off the tracks.

"You'd be so lost without your knight in shining armor!" She said proudly, grabbing Frisk's arm to get closer to her.

The girls continued to voyage through Hotland, enjoying the heat and the monsters. For being so close to molten lava, it wasn't blisteringly hot in the Hotland. It was comfortably warm, like laying in the sun on a clear day to sunbathe. The monsters were extremely friendly, including Vulkin, a volcano shaped monster who loved hugs. Chara and Frisk would hug one tight whenever they got into a FIGHT with one, and it would blush and giggle happily, though when it giggled, it released some lava from its mouth, making the girls have to back away.

As they continued, they noticed more vents, making Chara groan.

"Why are these everywhere?" Chara complained.

"I don't know, why not?" Frisk said sarcastically, making Chara sigh.

Bravely, and heroically, Chara stepped on the vent before Frisk and launched across, the hot air taking her by surprise making her yelp. Frisk started to laugh uncontrollably, falling to her knees.

"Chara!" She said, holding her sides because they hurt from laughing. "That was adorable! I've never heard you do that!"

Chara blushed madly from Frisk laughing at her. Her face was hot with embarrassment, and the heat of Hotland didn't make it any better. "Frisk! It wasn't that funny!" Chara said, crossing her arms, getting angry.

Frisk started to calm down some, but not much. "But it was so cute!" She said, tears rolling down her face.

"Frisk! Stop laughing!" Chara yelled in anger.

Frisk stopped, but not immediately, realizing Chara was angry with her. She stepped on the vent and launched herself across the platform, walking towards Chara, who was turned away with her arms crossed. Frisk touched her back, "Chara. Come on! Don't be angry with me."

"It wasn't that funny.." Chara said quietly, her face slowly regaining its natural color. She turned around to face Frisk, who looked sad. "Okay.. maybe a little." Chara said, cracking a smile.

Frisk grabbed Chara's hand pulling her in for a quick kiss on the cheek. "Sorry, but you were just too cute!" Frisk smiled.

Chara couldn't hold back from smiling. "A little less laughter would be appreciated next time."

"Of course, promise!"

The girls continued their journey through Hotland, passing yet another set of vents, which Chara reluctantly stepped on. It didn't take long before they discovered a new problem.

"Frisk?" Chara said, looking at the orange and blue lasers ahead of them.

_** *Ring Ring***_

Frisk looked at her phone and checked the Caller I.D.

_ *Alphys is calling*_

Frisk opened her phone and selected speaker, "Heya Alphys!"

"H-hey, you two. I know the lasers may look bad, but I will use my knowledge and hack into the system to turn them off!"

"Alphys.." Chara said. "How do you know there are lasers ahead of us..?"

"O-oh! Um.. I uh, had to.. um.." The lasers shut off, leaving a path ahead before she could finish speaking. "Oh! Looks like they are g-gone! Bye!" Alphys disconnected before the two could say anything.

"Frisk." Chara eyed her suspiciously. Frisk knew exactly what she meant by the stare.

"I know Chara, but Alphys is doing this to help us, she's not trying to spy on us or anything like that." She noticed Chara was getting angry. Frisk could always tell. Chara's natural blush would turn red, rather than the natural pink, and she would always furrow her brow, sometimes, she would tap her finger on her hip, as a sign of her being impatient.

"She promised she wouldn't do it anymore."

_ ** *Ring Ring*
>_*
> Frisk checked the Caller I.D.

_ *Alphys is calling*_

Frisk opened her phone and selected speaker.

"H-hey, you two. I know what you're talking about.." Alphys said. She sounded sad, like she was just told some awful news. "And I just want Chara to know, that... I-I'm sorry. I know I promised I-I wouldn't, but I thought you two would need help."

Chara started to calm down. "Alphys. You could've just told me that you had to, instead of promising me you would never do it again. I would've understood." Chara said, letting out a sigh.

Frisk smiled at Chara, but she didn't notice.

"Y-yeah.. I see that now, but I didn't want to tell you, b-because I thought you'd get mad again! You really scared me the first time." When she said that, Chara had a look on her face that Frisk couldn't place.

Chara didn't know how to feel after she heard Alphys say that. All she could muster was a face that made her look confused.

"Look." Chara sighed again. "I am truly sorry Alphys. I didn't mean to scare you, but you must understand why i was angry with you, and why I felt angry now."

"Y-yes, I understand, and I'm sorry too, Chara! If you want me to stop, for real this time, I will, no problem."

Chara considered the offer, and wondered if Alphys was lying. She looked at Frisk, who was just smiling at her. "Whatever you decide Chara, I'm fine with." She looked at Chara with a face that said, _"Please give her a chance, it would mean a lot to me."_

Alright Alphys. You can continue to watch and help us, I don't mind. Besides, you'll just make it easier for us!" Frisk gave Chara a toothy grin, she was happy Chara was okay with it.

"A-anyways you two! Up ahead, there is a giant door, you cannot open it unless you s-solve the puzzles on the left and right." Alphys said, sounding happier and more confident now she and Chara were back on good terms. "S-so, good luck!" She hung up.

Frisk nodded at Chara, as a silent "Thank You". They walked ahead and saw the giant door. It was massive, reaching so high, that when you looked up, you couldn't see the top, just the darkness of the underground. It was purple, and had strange circular symbols that glowed. Neither Chara nor Frisk knew what the symbols meant, but they each assumed it had to mean something unique to Hotland. In front of the door, or rather, in front of them, were more vents. The vent directly facing them, changed it's wind direction, going counter-clockwise.

"Well!" Frisk said. "I guess I'll go left, while you go right, Chara. We can knock it out quickly." Frisk said.

"But Frisk! I don't want to go without you! What if something happens?" Chara said, tightening her grip on Frisk's hand.

"Nothing will happen, trust me. Besides, if something goes wrong, Alphys will be watching over you, and call me." Frisk reassured her.

"Okay." Chara said, a little nervously, but she felt a little safer remembering Alphys was watching.

Frisk let go of Chara's hand and stepped on the vent, shooting across to the left. Chara stepped on the vent, and shot to the right. They both smiled and waved and walked towards their puzzles.

_ *Chara's P.O.V.* _

_ It sucks not having Frisk by me, even if it is for one lousy puzzle. I'm always worried that something bad will happen when Frisk isn't around, and I'll mess up, and she'll hate me. I shake the thought out of my head.

"Frisk would never hate me." I say to myself, as reassurance. I smile at the thought of her, I already miss her, and I just left her a minute ago.

>Ahead of me, there is a blue laser, knowing how blue attacks work, I know I can't just walk past it, I'll get hurt. I look around for another way across, but I hear a familiar tone.

>

>I felt my phone vibrate in my pocket, and took it out, checking the Caller I.D.

_ *Alphys is calling*_

I open my phone, "Need something, Alphys?" I ask.

"Chara! T-that blue laser seems totally impassable. B-b-but! I have some tricks up my sleeve! I-I'll hack into the H-h-hotland laser database and take it out!"

I giggled. "Why thank you, oh wise one!" I say sarcastically. She hung up, and the laser came off. I took a bow and said thank you, knowing Alphys was watching.

I was trying to be nicer to Alphys so she wouldn't be so scared of me. I still feel bad for my episode back in her Lab. I wanted to be her friend, and I tried my hardest, hopefully it was working.

I looked ahead and saw a building ahead of me. It looked pretty cool, and somehow familiar. "Have I been here before...?" I asked myself quietly. I couldn't place it. I walked in and saw the puzzle. There was a note on the side, but I didn't want to read it. I turned on the puzzle and saw a bunch of squares light up, and two red bullets appear. I pressed the control panel to see what it would do.
>The red bullet shot forward and destroyed a square. "Cool!"

I pressed it again and destroyed another square, and then the puzzle reset itself. And I had my bullets back. "Ah! So I have to restart if I don't do it right. I saw the box farthest away, that said: "SHOOT ME."

I couldn't simply hit it with how it was now. I moved the panel, and the boxes moved with it. "I get it now." I moved the panel around until there was only one square in the way of the SHOOT ME square. I didn't know how to get rid of it. It was making me mad. No matter what I did, I couldn't get it to move.

>"STUPID SQUARE!" I yelled out of pure frustration, and hit the panel. One of the bullets shot the square, destroying it. Now the SHOOT ME square was clear! I shot it, and it said Congratulations!

_*Frisk's P.O.V._

I walk forward, already aware of the puzzle ahead of me. I'm not worried about myself, but more for Chara. She hasn't been away from me before, and she didn't take it so well awhile ago, but I know it will be fine, it's just a simple puzzle. I look at the building ahead of me, with its cool design and patterns, and step in.

Reaching for the panel, I recall the first time I ever tried this. It was frustrating because I couldn't figure out how to move the squares, or even hit the SHOOT ME square, and had to call Papyrus to consult his puzzle solving skills. He didn't help me much, but I found the spirit to continue and solve the puzzle, eventually figuring it out.

I moved the squares in a perfect position to solve the puzzle, wondering how I ever got so stumped at this, and shot the target. I giggled as it played a little tune because I won, and walked out. I started to run so I could get to Chara as fast as possible.

_*3rd Person*

Chara and Frisk saw each other and stepped on the vents on either side, jumping across.

"That was really fun!" Chara said, hugging Frisk.

Frisk was surprised by the sudden hug.

"Really? That's awesome Chara! The puzzle didn't stump you?" Frisk said, a little worried she was the only one who would get stumped at the puzzle.

"Well, at first, I was frustrated because I couldn't figure it out, but eventually, I did! The control panel was weird too."

"Great!" Frisk said, breaking free of the hug. "Let's get moving, shall we?"

They took turns stepping on the vent and launching across, while the giant door opened.

Ahead, they saw a vent that led to a line of vents. Chara instantly hated it.

"Why are there so many vents right after another!" Chara complained.

"Come on, Chara, the quicker you step on it, the quicker it will be over." Frisk said.

The girls took turns riding the vents, Chara going first, waiting for Frisk on the other side. When they were both safe and sound, they realized the room they were in was pitch dark. Chara took Frisk's hand, and started to walk forward, when suddenly the lights came on.

>They looked in front of them only to see their favorite rectangular robot: Mettaton, in a cooking outfit.

"Oh no.." Chara said. Frisk smiled.

>Hey guys! Sorry it took so long to update, it is really hard writing at school.. I don't get much time for it, but I am supposed to get some of my things back this weekend, so I can update. Anywho! LOVE YOU GUYS!

13. Chapter 13: A Mettaton of Fun

"Welcome beauties!" Mettaton said towards a camera. He twirled his microphone, "To the Underground's premier cooking show!" He laughed as a giant sign appeared out of nowhere.

**_Cooking With a Killer Robot _**

The sign was huge, in cursive, and was glittering. Frisk knew Mettaton was a fan of the more fabulous things.

"Pre-heat your ovens, because we've got a very special recipe today! We're going to be making..." Mettaton looked at the girls for a split second, before turning back to the camera, "A cake!"

Chara became excited upon hearing this, "Will it be chocolate cake?"

"Save ALL questions until after the show, beautiful!" Mettaton said, his voice changing slightly to a more annoyed tone. He twirled his microphone again, "My two lovely assistants here will gather the ingredients! Everyone give them a big hand!" He started to clap, and confetti rained down on the girls.

Chara held some in her hand, but they evaporated in her hand.

"Oh yes! MTT Brand Confetti! Dissolves quickly to not leave a mess! Perfect for any occasion! Now you two, we'll need **Sugar**, **Milk**, and **Eggs**. Go for it sweethearts!"

Chara turned around and saw all the ingredients on the counter behind them, and grabbed the milk and sugar, while Frisk grabbed the eggs.

"Be careful, sweetie! We wouldn't want you to drop anything!" Mettaton said. Chara and Frisk delivered the ingredients to Mettaton. "Perfect! We've got all the ingredients we need to bake that cake! **Sugar**... **Milk**... **Eggs**... Oh my! What a marvelous moment!" He chuckled to himself. "How could I forget! We're missing the most important ingredient!" Mettaton reached below the counter and brought out a giant chainsaw.

Chara instantly put her arm in front of Frisk. "What is that Mettaton!" She yelled. She didn't know what it was, but it looked dangerous, like a knife.

"Never mind that, darling!" He laughed. "Now beauties!" He said looking back at the camera, "The most important ingredient we need is... a HUMAN SOUL!" He activated the chainsaw, and moved slowly towards the girls.

Chara was bracing herself for a FIGHT. Mettaton didn't seem like he was willing to SPARE them, so she figured she was going have to take him down.

Frisk stared at Mettaton with slight fear in her eyes. She was scared of the big chainsaw he had in his hands, but remembered that Mettaton was acting for the moment, and wouldn't actually hurt them. Frisk realized Chara didn't know that and was worried she may attack Mettaton.

_***Ring Ring*
>_>
A telephone could be heard echoing throughout the room. Mettaton clicked a button on his side and answered the call. "Hello...? I'm kinda in the middle of something here."

"W-w-wait a second!" Alphys' voice could be heard in the echo of the room. "Couldn't you make uh.. Couldn't you use uh.." She paused. "Couldn't you make a substitution in the recipe?"

Mettaton groaned, and turned off the chainsaw. "A substitution? You mean, use a different, non-human ingredient? ...Why?"

"Uh... what if someone is.." Alphys tried to think of something. "Vegan?"

"...Vegan." Mettaton sounded more annoyed now.

"W-well, actually I-" She was cut off.

"THAT'S A BRILLIANT IDEA ALPHYS!" Mettaton said, waving his arms.

"Actually! I have an option right here!"

MTT-Brand-Always-Convenient-Human-Soul-Flavor-Substitute! A can of which... is just over there on that counter!" He said, making a obvious gesture towards the counter to their far right. "Well darlings? Why don't you go get it?"

Chara walked to the can, walking slowly around Mettaton in case he'd try to hurt her or Frisk.

Frisk walked behind Chara, noticing her glaring at Mettaton. She didn't look too happy with him, but she found it understandable. Frisk wasn't too happy with Mettaton either the first time he pulled a chainsaw on her. The can was sitting upon a small counter, that barely rose to the girl's stomachs. It was just a plain red can with a yellow label that said: "MTT Brand, yadda yadda yadda.."

When Chara got close to pick the can up, the counter shot high into the sky at a fast pace.

Mettaton rolled over, laughing. "By the way, our show runs on a strict schedule. If you can't get the can in one minute, we'll have to go back to the original plan! So... Better start climbing, beautiful!"

**_*Ring Ring*_**

Frisk looked at her Caller I.D.

_*Alphys is calling*_

Frisk answered and selected speaker.

"Oh no! There is not enough time to climb that!" Alphys paused. "F-f-fortunately! I might have a p-plan!" She giggled a little. "When I was upgrading your phone, I added a few... features. You see that huge button that says JETPACK? Watch this!"

Frisk's phone floated in the air by itself and turned into a jetpack. Chara's rose out of her pocket and transformed as well. It attached itself to their backs.

"There!" Alphys said. "You should have just enough fuel to make it to the top! Now get up there!" She hung up, and the jetpacks started to activate, sending them into the air.

Chara was taken by surprise by the sudden lift of the jetpack, but got used to it quickly. "Frisk!" She yelled. Frisk looked over to her. "This is so cool!" Chara yelled.

She did a twirl, and laughed. She was having a great time. Frisk couldn't help but laugh with her, doing a few twirls with her. "Enough fun, darlings! Let's get to the drama!"

Mettaton yelled, rocketing up ahead of them. He poured sugar, milk, and eggs down, in an attempt to slow the girls down.

"Chara!" Frisk called. "Avoid those! You're fuel will deplete and we won't reach it!"

Chara smiled. She loved a little challenge. "Got it, Frisk!" Chara expertly maneuvered and spun out of the way of the random ingredients.

Frisk dodged them as well, but noticed Chara had a certain, je ne sais quoi to it. She flawlessly dodged the ingredients, and made a show of it. Doing tricks, twirls, and making faces. Frisk couldn't help but stare at her grace. Not paying attention, she got smacked with some sugar, lowering her fuel. She looked away from Chara, and tried to pay attention.

"Only ten seconds left darlings!" Mettaton called.

"Frisk! I don't think we can make it in time!" Chara yelled.

"I have an idea, Chara! Take my hand!" Frisk called back.

The two got close together, and Chara grabbed Frisk's hand. "What now?" Chara said.

Frisk didn't answer, but instead, using as much strength as she could muster, threw Chara forward, giving her a boost of speed. Frisk flew back towards the ground, and landed, looking up to see Chara nearing the top.

With the extra boost, Chara was able to grab the can with two seconds remaining. "Got it!" She yelled happily.

Frisk clapped and cheered at the bottom, and Chara flew back down.

Mettaton came down too, and sarcastically clapped his hands. "Congrats, beauties. Oh, and about the substitution, haven't you ever seen a cooking show? I've already baked the cake ahead of time, so forget it!" Mettaton flew off.

Chara hugged Frisk. "That was a really smart plan Frisk!" She said, still excited.

"Yeah, I guess so!" Frisk said.

Chara let go of her and looked around. "Hey Alphys! If you're listening, thank you so much! We couldn't have done it without you!"

"Yeah! Thanks a ton Alphys!" Frisk said. Frisk grabbed Chara's arm. "And thank you, my strong hero!"

Chara blushed. "What do you mean?"

"For protecting me from the evil killer robot with a chainsaw!"

"Oh! Well, of course! I will always protect you!" Chara said. "Well, my hero, here is your reward." Frisk said flirty. She kissed Chara softly and the cheek, and leaned close to her ear, and whispered, "When Alphys isn't watching, I'll give you a real reward."

Chara's face was as red as a tomato. She wanted to yell at Alphys to stop watching them, so she could get her *ahem* reward.

Frisk leaned herself on Chara's arm again, "Let's get moving then."

"Y-yeah.. Of course." Chara was not focused, her knees were weak, but she was able to walk, off of pure DETERMINATION for her surprise reward later.

The two walked together, Frisk humming to herself, Chara enjoying the humming, listening quietly. She could faintly remember the tune. It sounded just like the one at the Waterfall, when they played a music box. Ahead of them was a giant structure, surrounded by more lava. It looked impossible to get to from the perspective, but Frisk knew better.

_ ***Ring Ring*****_

Chara groaned, she liked the quiet walk with Frisk. Frisk checked her Caller I.D.

_ *Alphys is calling*_

Frisk opened her phone and selected speaker. "H-hey you two. I know you are enjoying your walk, but I was just calling to tell you about that structure over there."

"It's fine Alphys," Frisk said. Chara was annoyed, but didn't say anything.

"Well, that's the CORE. It's the source for power throughout the entire Underground. It converts geothermal energy, into magical electricity. That's where you are going. In the CORE there is an elevator that leads directly to Asgore's castle. And from there, you can go home."

"Awesome, thanks Alphys." Frisk said. Alphys hung up, and Frisk put her phone away. And grabbed Chara's arm again.

Frisk started to hum again, while Chara listened, smiling happily. They don't get many quiet moments to themselves, so they enjoyed it, and took it all in.

"You know, Frisk." Chara said, breaking the silence. (Other than Frisk's quiet humming)

Frisk looked over at Chara. "Hmm?" She hummed.

"That Mettaton guy sure is a piece of work." Chara giggled.

"Yeah, he's something." Frisk said.

"He kinda scared me back there, with the chainsaw and everything."

"Oh?" Frisk said, a grin stretching across her face. "I thought you were my big brave hero?"

"I wasn't scared for me! I was scared he would hurt you, Frisk."

Chara said.

"Oh."

"It's just." Chara paused. "Every time we encounter someone new, I get scared they will hurt you, and take you away from me." Chara tried to hold back a tear.

"Chara, they won't I promise, please stop worrying." Frisk said, hugging Chara's arm tighter.

Chara wiped a tear from her eye and smiled. "I love you Frisk."

"I love you too, my hero." Frisk giggled. Chara joined in, and they continued their walk.

_***Walking together fills you both with LOVE***_

_>Hey guys! I got my stuff back for the weekend, so I'll update as much as I can in these three short days! During the regular week, I'll have to write in school again though... Anywho, I hope you enjoyed. LOVE YOU GUYS!

14. Chapter 14: A Break

Chara and Frisk step into an elevator, seeing all the buttons and floors.

"Which one?" Chara asks, her finger running through all the buttons.

"How about R2?" Frisk suggested.

Chara selected R2, and the elevator began to shake, and then started moving up. Frisk sat down, enjoying the gentle and soothing vibration of the elevator. Chara sat next to her, and wrapped her arm around Frisk.

Frisk leaned on Chara, and closed her eyes. "I'm so tired, Chara. We haven't had any rest for awhile now." Frisk yawned, and snuggled closer to Chara getting comfortable.

"Me too, Frisk, but I don't think an elevator is a good place to nap." Chara said, smiling. She played with Frisk's hair. Running her hand through the soft, silky stands. It reminded her of Bob back at Temmie Village, which made her giggle.

"What's so funny?" Frisk said, half awake, half sleeping.

"I miss Bob." Chara said, still smiling.

"The Temmies?"

"Yeah."

>"I miss the Temmies too."

"We should visit them again soon."

"First, let's open the barrier." Frisk yawned.

The elevator eventually came to a stop, and the doors opened. Frisk had already fallen asleep on Chara. Chara didn't want to wake her, so she picked her up carefully, bridal style and carried her out of the elevator. Around the corner, she saw Sans at a stand, much like in the Waterfall. It even had snow on the roof... somehow. She walked over.

"heya kid. wanna buy a hotdog?" Sans said.

"Sorry Sans, I'm not in the mood." Chara replied.

"Dog..." Frisk said sleepily, she couldn't focus on the world around her, and could barely make out the voices she heard.

"she looks a little beat. you two been busy?" Sans asked, poking Frisk.

"We haven't really gotten any rest since the Waterfall, and it's hitting Frisk hard." Chara yawned. "And I think I'm getting tired as well."

"that's a shame. if only there was bed around here." Sans said, grinning wide.

"Sans, could you just use one of your shortcuts and take us to Snowdin? Frisk really needs the rest."

Sans didn't want to take Chara anywhere, much less help her, but it was obvious that Frisk needed to get some shut eye. "yeah, sure pal. right this way."

Chara walked with Sans, and suddenly, they were inside the Snowdin Inn. Chara put Frisk gently on the bed, and covered her in the blanket, making sure she was comfortable. She noticed Sans was staring at her.

"Any reason why you're still here?" She said, with an aggravated tone.

"calm down, kiddo. a simple thank you woulda worked." Sans' grin shrunk.

"Thanks, Sans." Chara said sarcastically, turning back to Frisk.

"besides. i can shoot the same question back at you, why are you still here? you dirty brother killer."

Chara bolted upright and turned to face Sans. Fear washed over her. She remembered those words fondly, and now she remembered why she was nervous around Sans in the beginning.

"what? can't speak?" Sans' eyes were pitch black. Time seemed to stop around them. "don't think i don't remember kiddo. i'm surprised it's taken you this long to remember me."

Chara stared at Sans. "What do you want from me?"

"why are you still here?" Sans said in an angry tone.

An evil smile spread across Chara's face. "Because she wants me here, and there isn't a thing you can do about it comedian!"

Sans was taken aback by the sudden outburst. "i knew you were still a psycho in there somewhere. one of these days, you're gonna slip up, kid, and.. well.." He chuckled and summoned a Gaster Blaster. "ya know."

"I'm not going to Sans!" Chara was scared of the Blaster, and calmed down. "I've changed, thanks to Frisk."

"sure you have." Sans said, his eyes going back to normal, the Gaster Blaster going away.

"I have Sans! Why can't you see that? I've done nothing but good this entire time, and all of it was for Frisk!" Chara said, her breathing getting heavier, as she held back tears. She didn't want to Sans to see her cry.

Sans didn't say anything, but avoided Chara's gaze.

"I love her Sans, I would never do anything to hurt her." Chara said, a tear rolling down her cheek, she couldn't hold it in.

Sans couldn't believe it. He wondered if the kid had actually changed. It appeared so, she was LV 1, and had no weapon currently equipped. She hadn't hurt one SOUL yet, and had even won over the heart of Frisk, and if Frisk trusted Chara with no doubts, then he'd give her a chance.

"heh." Sans chuckled. "i guess i was wrong kid. how about we start over?"

Chara wiped a tear away. "Really?"

"really." He held out his hand. Chara stared at his hand for a moment, and then grabbed it, shaking his hand. "the name's sans. sans the skeleton." His grin actually grew.

"Greetings. My name is Chara Dreemurr."

"just promise me this kiddo." Sans said, letting go of Chara's hand.

"What is it?"

Sans looked at Frisk, and his grin expanded slightly. "just protect her and make sure she is happy, okay?" Sans asked, sighing.

Chara found herself smiling. "Now that is a promise I can always keep." Chara did something that surprised them both; she hugged Sans.

Sans was scared at first, having a quick flashback, but composed himself. "kid?"

"I'm sorry for everything Sans, I hope we can be friends. For Frisk's sake." Chara teared up more.

Sans pat Chara's back. "you know what kid? i'd like that."

Chara let go of him. Time seemed to resume normally.

"well, i'll leave you two alone. seeya, kid. tell frisk i said sup. '"
Sans used a shortcut out of the room.

Chara was happy she finally was on better terms with Sans. She was still a little nervous, as she could recall exactly who he was now. She knew Sans was insanely powerful, way more than he let on. She didn't let that worry her too much right now, she was exhausted and wanted nothing more than to crawl in bed with Frisk and take a much needed rest.

Chara got in the covers with Frisk, and Frisk moved over and cuddled with her.

"Char?" Frisk said, barely thinking.

"Shh." Chara said, and started running her hands through Frisk's hair. Frisk was comfortably laying on Chara's chest, and drifted into sleep. Chara kissed the top of Frisk's head, and whispered: "I promise Sans." Chara fell asleep quickly.

* * *

>The next morning, Chara woke up before Frisk and looked around, remembering where she was. She got up and walked towards the bathroom. Frisk murmured something, sad that her cuddle buddy was gone, but too tired to do anything. Chara found her little cry for attention cute and decided to lay back down with Frisk.

Frisk made a small sound of happiness and wrapped herself around Chara.

"You're so cute." Chara said, playing with Frisk's hair.

"Cha.." Frisk whispered.

"She sure was sleepy." Chara giggled quietly. "She can barely function." Chara wasn't sleepy anymore, but didn't want to upset Frisk, so they stared at the ceiling and noticed it was tiled. "Well, this'll give me something to do." She said to herself, and began to count the tiles. \

Twenty minutes pass, and Frisk is still lying on Chara. "64 tiles." Chara said, satisfied with her counting. Frisk started to fidget.

"Chara.." She said, lifting her head up.

"Morning sleepy." Chara said, looking at Frisk. Her face was mostly covered by her hair. Chara moved her hair, to look at her face. Her eyes were drifting from open to closed, and her mouth was slightly open, her cheeks rosy.

Frisk wrapped her arms around Chara. "Five more... minutes." She said.

Chara laughed. "Come on Frisk! We've gotta get moving soon."

"Please...?" Frisk begged.

"Why don't we go do something fun instead today? Like a date?" Chara suggested.

Hearing that made Frisk wake up. "Really?"

"Yeah! We can relax by the Waterfall, or go to Grillby's, or play in the snow, whatever you want." Chara said, getting excited herself.

Frisk sat up in the bed, thinking about the possibilities. "How about we get some food from Grillby's to go, and then have a picnic somewhere quiet in the Waterfall?"

"That sounds amazing Frisk, lets get ready!"

* * *

>*Short Time Skip***

Grillbz had packed the girls a lunch of burgers and fries, but it cost extra to make it a to go order. Neither of them minded. Frisk had already called Alphys and asked her not to watch them through her surveillance, and told her why, to which she happily complied with. They had decided to pick a spot away from the monsters. They found a small cave that was illuminated by reflective rocks and fluorescent flowers, with a small stream running through. They sat down and enjoyed the scenery.

"It's hard to believe we ever wanted to leave this place. It's so beautiful." Chara said, scooting closer to Frisk.

"I must have been too distracted by your beauty to notice." Frisk said, holding Chara's hand, leaning on her shoulder.

Chara blushed and smiled. Frisk always knew how to make her smile.

"So." Frisk said, after some silence. "Remember that reward I was telling you about?"

Chara became excited and nervous. "Y-yeah!" She tried to play it cool. "What a-about it?"

"I think now would be a good time, don't you?" Frisk inched her face closer to Chara's.

Chara faced Frisk. She looked so beautiful in the light, he face glowing, and her eyes sparkling. Chara could feel her heart skip beats.

They leaned in closer until their lips met. They hadn't had time for a date like this in awhile, and they both needed this. Chara caressed Frisk's cheek as she melted into the kiss, Frisk pushing her down, and getting on top of her. Chara was feeling a little "frisky" and decided to change things up. She moved her mouth to Frisk's neck, kissing her softly. She moved up and down the crook of her neck, kissing her, using her tongue. Small moans escaped Frisk's mouth, as she blushed and enjoyed what Chara was doing.

"Chara..." She breathed out.

Chara gently started to bite Frisk's neck making Frisk gasp. Eventually, Chara worked her way back to Frisk's mouth, letting out the occasional moan herself. Frisk didn't hesitate and put her tongue in Chara's mouth and began to lick Chara's tongue, which Chara gladly accepted. Chara was running her hands up and down Frisk's back, while Frisk had her hands up Chara's shirt. Things were getting heated. Chara began trying to take off Frisk's sweater, but Frisk wouldn't let her.

"Chara... I'm not ready for all that.." She said sadly, feeling she'd disappoint Chara.

>Chara wasn't mad. "It's fine Frisk, I understand." She continued to kiss Frisk, but not as passionately.

After another couple minutes of making out, Frisk got off of Chara and laid down next to her, getting close, wrapping her legs around Chara's. "That was supposed to be your gift, and you did most of it.." Frisk said sadly. "I'm sorry I'm so bad at this."

"No Frisk! That was perfect, and I loved it! Nothing could have been better."

"Promise?"

"Promise."

The two laid there for a time, enjoying each other's company, not wanting to leave and end the date. They realized they had some food they didn't eat, so the girls ate together and talked. Eventually, they left, to their dissatisfaction, and called Alphys telling her it was okay to monitor again.

Walking hand in hand, the girls made it back to Hotland, well rested and ready for what was to come.

**_*Rested and ready, you're are filled with DETERMINATION*_**

_***As the date replays in your heads, you're filled with LOVE***_

>Hey guys! I Hope you really enjoyed a fluffier chapter! I did realize I haven't been adding quite enough fluff to my story, sorry! LOVE YOU GUYS!

15. Chapter 15: Hotland Continued

The girls returned to Hotland, and resumed from where they had left off. Sans wasn't at his post, leaving Chara suspicious. Frisk didn't think much of it, and passed it by without a second thought. After passing Sans' post, they had to walk across a long path, that seemed to stretch endlessly. Neither of them minded, though. Frisk held Chara's arm tightly walking close to her, humming quietly.

Chara enjoyed listening to her, and hummed along. Eventually, the two reached a perfect sync with each other. They hummed the tune from the jukebox back in the Waterfall area, just as Frisk had done before. After they finished the tune, Chara giggled to herself. The long stretch of nothing finally came to a stop, as they saw moving tracks and lasers ahead.

_***Ring Ring***_

Frisk checked her Caller I.D.

_*Alphys is calling*_

Frisk opened the phone and selected speaker.

"H...hi....!" Alphys said, sounding nervous. "This puzzle, ahead of you, is kinda... timing based. Y-you see those switches over there? Y-you'll have to press all three of them within three seconds." She hung up.

Frisk was aware of the last switch not actually doing anything, but didn't say anything. She let go of Chara and stepped on the platform, Chara jumping after. They pressed all the switches quickly and the lasers deactivated.

The two walked farther along, to see another puzzle, containing two by three rows of vents and switches.

"Again with the vents!" Chara complained, palming her face.

Frisk just laughed and stepped on the first vent. "Chara! Follow after me!" Frisk jumped across to the second vent, then down, down, up, back down, left, up, and up, until she reached the end, striking a pose of victory at the end, winking.

Chara tried copying her, but messed up, and had to restart. The vents were getting annoying to her. Eventually, she got it right, and joined Frisk. "We better not have to deal with more vents." Chara said.

Frisk rolled her eyes, and grabbed her hand and continued to walk. Yet again, the walk was long and seemed to drag on, until they heard a voice.

"Hey, like, you two! Stop!" A man's voice was heard. It reminded Frisk of a stereotypical surfer dude you'd see on TV.

Chara turned around to see two knights walking up to them. "Royal Guards." She said to herself.

"We've, like, received anonymous tip about two humans wearing stripped shirts passing through here. I know, sounds scary, huh? Well, just stay chill, we'll bring you someplace safe." The first guard gestured for them to follow, while the second one didn't speak and just turned around, walking.

Chara and Frisk followed them. Chara was confused how they didn't notice that they were the humans, but decided it would be better if she kept her mouth shut.

The two stopped moving in front of them, making the girls stop suddenly as well. The second guard mumbled something, making the first guard shoot a quick look at the girls.

"Bummer. This is like... mega embarrassing. We have to, like, totally kill you and stuff..." They drew their weapons, both wielding large single handed swords, they looked intimidating.

A battle sequence started.

Chara braced herself. The guards were twice her size, and they looked tough. Frisk didn't worry.

"Like, Team Attack." The first guard said. They didn't slice with their giant swords, but rather, sent small magical attacks towards the girls in sync with each other.

Chara and Frisk easily dodged the attack.

"Chara, I have an idea on how to beat these guys."

"Do it then!"

Frisk walked over to the second guard and whispered something suggestive (ahem) into his ear.

"Heh.."

The first guard looked nervous. "Uh, team attack?" They launched more magical attacks, as Frisk kept flirting with the first guard.

Chara was beginning to feel jealous, and wanted to get rid of that guard, but she controlled herself, figuring this was Frisk's plan. She hoped, anyway.

"Armor... too... HOT." The second guard yelled, popping his armor off his body, revealing a scaly, muscular chest, and abs.

Frisk backed off. "Now watch this." She whispered to Chara.

"What do you mean?"

"Just watch."

The first guard looked nervous, and was visibly shaking. "02! What are you doing!"

02 didn't say anything.

"Like, I can't take this anymore!" The first guard started. "02, I like... I like, LIKE, you bro!" He put away his sword.

Chara became wide eyed, seeing what was happening.

"I love the way you FIGHT, the way you talk... I love doing team attacks with you. I love standing here with you, bouncing and waving our weapons in sync. 02... I like... want to stay like this forever.."

Chara awed quietly, seeing the guard pour his heart out to 02. She held Frisk's hand, putting her other hand over her heart.

02 was silent for a moment, making the first guard nervous. "01.. do you... wanna get some Nice Cream... after this?"

"Yeah bro! Haha!" 01 seemed extremely happy. The two stared at each other happily.

Chara and Frisk awed again. "How about Chara and I leave you two to enjoy yourselves?" Frisk said, smiling widely at the two.

"Yeah, like, that's cool." 01 responded. The two knights walked off.

The girls had successfully SPARED them.

The battle ended.

"Frisk, that was amazing, what you did." Chara said, still smiling.

"Yeah. They are so cute together." Frisk said.

"But how did you know to do that?"

Frisk winked. "Let's call it intuition."

They walked farther, until they reached another dark room.

_***Ring Ring***_

Frisk checked the Caller I.D.

_*Alphys is calling*_

She opened it and put it on speaker.

"Hey again. A-another dark room? W-well, using my hacking skills, I've got this covered!"

The lights turned on to reveal a camera facing Frisk and Chara, with Mettaton in a reporter suit to the far right corner. He was holding a stack of white paper, and was sitting at a desk.

"OHHH YEEESSS!" Mettaton yelled. "Good evening beauties, and gentle-beauties! This is Mettaton, reporting LIVE from MTT News! An interesting situation has arisen in Eastern Hotland! Fortunately, our correspondents are out there, reporting live." Mettaton struck a needlessly dramatic pose, "Correspondents! Find something newsworthy to report!"

Chara looked at Frisk in confusion, and then looked around her. There were random objects placed around them. A glass of water, a dog, a basketball, a book, and a wrapped present. Chara decided to go pet the dog, but noticed it was acting strange just moving in place, not doing anything else.

"Um, how about this dog?" Chara asked.

"OH! I can see the headline now: 'A dog exists somewhere.' Frankly, I'm blown away." Mettaton said, as sarcastically as possible.

The dog fidgeted randomly, and suddenly, its tail became a fuse of some sort.

"Attention viewers! Our correspondent found a dog! The feel good story of the century. Look at its tiny ears, cut paws, fluffy tail! ...wait that's not a tail, its a fuse!" Mettaton said, his hands on his rectangular head now. "That dog isn't a dog! It's... a bomb! But don't panic!" Mettaton laughed to himself. "You haven't even seen the rest of the room yet!"

Mettaton's news set came crashing down, evaporating, leaving only Mettaton and his camera left.

"It seem's everything in the area is actually a bomb! Brave correspondent! If you don't defuse all the bombs.." Mettaton flew ahead to reveal a giant bomb with 5 MINUTES, in the center of it. It looked poorly painted on. "This big bomb will blow you two to smithereens! Then you won't be reporting 'live' any longer! How terrible, how disturbing! Our nine viewers are going to love watching this! Good luck darlings!" Mettaton laughed and floated above them.

"Don't worry!" Alphys' voice could be heard in an echo throughout the room. "I installed a bomb-defusing program on your phones! No g-go get em!'"

"Frisk! You take the bombs over there, I'll go down here and get those!" Chara said, running towards the first bomb.

The girls quickly defused the bombs, and met back with each other. Chara sighed in relief. Mettaton laughed. \

"Oh! Sorry darlings! All that work was for not! The big bomb is going off anyways! GOOD BYE!" He laughed and laughed.

Chara winced waiting for the bomb to blow her out of existence, but it never did.

"Ah." Mettaton said, stopping his laughing. "It seems the bomb isn't going off."

"T-that's because!" Alphys' voice could be heard again. "While you busy monologue-ing, I fi... fix... I uh.. ch-change.." Alphys was sounding like she didn't even know what she had just done.

"Oh no! You deactivated the bombs with your hacking skills!" Mettaton said, half annoyed, half sarcastically.

"Y-yeah! That's what I did!"

Mettaton snapped his fingers. "Curses! It seems I've been foiled again! Curse you humans! Curse you Dr. Alphys for helping so much! But I don't curse my eight wonderful viewers for tuning in! Until next time darling!" He flew off.

Chara and Frisk continued to walk ahead, seeing yet another long stretch of path. This one had another view of the CORE, with another elevator at the end of it. Frisk was holding onto Chara's arm as normal, enjoying the walk.

"Hey Frisk." Chara started.

"Yes?"

"Mettaton sounds really sarcastic out there, like he doesn't really care."

"What about it?"

"Nothing really, just saying." Chara decided not to tell Frisk she was suspicious Mettaton and Alphys were secretly plotting something together. She didn't know why, but she felt a weird feeling about it, like, she somehow knew, but couldn't exactly remember.

"Alright then!" Frisk said.

When they reached the elevator, they walked in and noticed all the buttons besides L3, were dark. Chara decided to press the only lit button, and the elevator closed, and started to move up.

Chara sat down, and Frisk sat next to her, resting on her shoulder. Neither of them spoke, but rather, enjoyed the ride up. The girls didn't need to speak to each other all the time, all they needed was each other's presence to keep them happy.

The elevator opened, and the girls were greeted to a new sight. A light red carpet, with fancy embroidered edges, rather than a rocky path as before. There wasn't lava anymore either, just a dark, chilly room. Chara liked it, opposed to the constant heat of the Hotland.

The girls continued to walk, when they came upon a small stand with a giant humanoid like spider behind it. They walked up to the spider. Chara noticed it was definitely a girl. She wore a pretty red dress, and her pitch black hair was put up in pig tails, with little red ribbons, her skin was a bright, dull purple. She had six arms, with two legs, and five black eyes, that sparkled.

"Hello dearies~" She spoke, with a soft calming voice, like the voice of a mother, talking sweetly to her baby. "Welcome to our parlor! Interested in some spider pastries? All proceeds go to real spiders~" She said, adding a little musical note at the end.

Frisk was delighted to see the familiar spider, and Chara looked happy as well.

"Pretty outfit!" Chara said, admiring her.

"Thank you dearie~ It's made with real spider silk!"

The two continued to talk, while Frisk looked at the items she had. They all cost 9999g, except for a spider donut that was chocolate flavored.

"Hey Chara, they have a chocolate donut for 100g." Frisk said, tugging on Chara's sleeve.

"I'll take it!" Chara said excitedly, taking out 100g from her inventory. She handed the spider girl the money, and she handed her the donut.

"Thank you so much dearie~" She said. She reached out one of her six hands, and Chara shook it.

"My name is Chara, by the way, and this is my friend Frisk!" Chara said.

Frisk shook one of the spiders hands as well, "Pleased to meet you!"

The spider girl giggled. "My name is Muffet! Please, come back any time! And Chara, next time we see each other, I can help you make a spider silk outfit if you'd like!"

"Thank you, Muffet! I'd like that a lot!" Chara said, excitedly.

The two waved goodbye and continued to walk.

"You two seemed to get along really well." Frisk said.

"Yeah, Muffet was really nice, I can't wait to see her again." Frisk giggled, glad Chara made a friend.

Chara's smile had faded quickly, as she saw what was ahead of them.

"COME ON!" She yelled.

Ahead of the girls, was more vents, a lot more vents.

"Race you!" Frisk said, stepping on the vent.

Chara wasn't about to turn down that challenge. "You're on!" She said, finding the sudden will to step on the vents.

**_*Wanting to win the race, you two are filled with DETERMINATION*_**

_>Hey guys! Hope you enjoyed this chapter! LOVE YOU GUYS!

16. Chapter 16: The Accident

Frisk knew exactly which vents to step on to traverse the puzzle. Chara was having trouble, and kept stepping on vents that sent her back, frustrating her. There was no way she was going to let Frisk beat her.

Chara stopped moving to observe the vents around her to try to find a clear path to the end, when she saw three paths. One to the east, south, and north. "Frisk!" Chara yelled.

Frisk stopped moving and looked behind her. "What is it?"

"Which way are we supposed to go?" Chara said, still looking around.

Frisk noticed the three paths. "Oh yeah.." She said quietly. "Change of plans, Chara! We need to open another door, like the one before!" Frisk said, pointing at the giant door ahead of them, much like the one towards the beginning of Hotland.

"Well, which way are we going?"

"We should split up again, I'll go to the south, you go north."

Chara hated the idea of splitting up, and was worried something would go wrong. "Y-yeah.. okay Frisk." Chara started to walk towards the north, looking down.

Frisk ran towards the south, eager to get her puzzle done quickly and return to Chara.

* * *

>*Frisk's P.O.V.*

I head towards the south, quickly. I know that Chara is going to be worried if shes by herself to long. I know she is a great person, and won't get into any trouble, but I still want to hurry. Ahead of me are self propelling tracks and blue lasers. I know all I have to do is stay still, and I won't get hurt.

I step on the track and stagger a bit, forgetting how fast they move. I compose myself quickly so I won't get hurt by the lasers.

At the end of the track, I jump off and jog over to the puzzle room.

_***Ring Ring*

_*Alphys is calling*

>I answer it.

"Hey!" Alphys says, "This um, doesn't have anything to do with guiding you... but.. Would you like to watch a... um... human TV show t-together sometime? It's called... Mew... Mew Mew Kissie Cutie" Alphys said, nervous.

"Sure!" I said, I loved that show actually, and wanted to watch it again with her, and possibly Undyne.

"R-really?" Alphys seemed happy. "Well, let me tell you about it!"

Alphys began to drone on about the show, and I sat down to listen.

When Alphys finished her long droning, I continued to the building. The puzzle was similar to the last square puzzles, with a final SHOOT ME square I had to figure out how to shoot. I could faintly remember this from the last run, so it took me a few tries.

I turned the panel every which way, making the regular squares dart around, until eventually, the path to the SHOOT ME square was clear. I shot it, and heard the familiar tune, saying I won, and left. I already miss Chara, and I want to get back to her as soon as possible.

* * *

>*Chara's P.O.V.*

I hate being apart from Frisk, it makes me worry, but I decided to keep my head up, and quickly finish the puzzle and meet back up with Frisk. I jumped on the last vent going north and saw the building ahead of me.

I closed my eyes, and I started to feel dizzy, and my whole world became black. I thought I felt myself fall, but I opened my eyes and saw something.. and on closer inspection, it was a particular skeleton, leaning on the building. I decided that was imagining things with the darkness and walked closer to the skeleton, just to make sure he was really there.

"heya kiddo, just checking in." Sans said, flipping a small bone in his hand.

Relieved I wasn't imagining things, I say, "Funny seeing you here Sans."

"how are things since our last meeting?" Sans said, not looking at me.

"Fine, I guess. Frisk and I are having fun." I said, wondering where Sans was taking this.

"no, i meant, how are things with you, kid. how's life knowing you can't kill mercilessly?" Sans said, his eye sockets loosing their pupils. "does it eat you up inside to know you can't rip into my friends like you once did? that you can't watch as they die at the end of your blade?"

I had tears in my eyes at this point. Why was he saying these things to me? I thought we started over. I couldn't respond, I didn't know how to respond. I just started to cry.

Sans summoned two Gaster Blasters on both sides of him, and chuckled to himself. "welp. sorry lady, this is why i never make promises." He said, pointing to me, making the Blasters move slowly towards me.

I didn't know what to do, seeing the Blasters advancing on me made me scared, confused, and sad all the same time, as they inched closer, I felt something else though. I couldn't describe it.

The Blasters got closer, and closer, and the feeling was filling inside me. No longer was I sad or afraid. I started to laugh. A sadistic grin reached across my face.

"NOT IF I KILL YOU FIRST SANS!" I yelled. I couldn't control myself, I sprinted towards Sans and tried to strike him, but suddenly he disappeared, and standing in his place was a Vulkin. I couldn't stop myself, and I struck the Vulkin as hard as I could.

The little guy fell to the ground, and started to cry lava. He had one HP left.

Seeing what I had done, I stopped laughing, and my smile was quickly replaced with a look of fear.

"What have I done?" I said quietly, looking at my hands, then slowly to the Vulkin laying on the ground in pain.

* * *

>*3rd Person P.O.V.*

Frisk arrived to the north where Chara was to see a devastating sight. A Vulkin crying in pain on the floor, and Chara staring at her own hands on her knees near the monster. She was stricken with confusion. What had just happened?

"Chara!" Frisk ran towards her.

Chara looked up to see Frisk running her way, and she got up and started backing away.

"Chara! What happened?" Frisk said, looking at the monster.

Chara couldn't respond, all she could muster was: "S-sans.."

Frisk pulled Chara into a hug, but Chara didn't hug her back. Her arms were limp. All Chara did was repeat "Sans" over and over.

Frisk let go of Chara and grabbed her face, trying her hardest to get Chara to snap out of it. "Chara! Listen to me!" Frisk said. Chara wasn't looking at her, just at the Vulkin. She had stopped repeating Sans.

Frisk wasn't sure what else to do, so she gave her a quick kiss on the lips.

"Frisk.." She breathed out.

"Please, tell me what happened."

"Help... the Vulkin.." Chara said, breathing heavily.

Frisk looked over to the hurt monster and let go of Chara, going to tend to the monster's wounds. He gave the monster a cinnamon roll that restored all its health, and it got up and ran away, scared of Chara.

Frisk looked back over to Chara to see her sitting on the ground with her face in her hands. She walked over and sat next to her, and wrapped her arm around her.

"Chara." Frisk said calmly. Her voice was soothe, and helped Chara calm down.

"I'm so sorry." She said.

Frisk played with hair, trying to calm Chara down some more. "For what?"

"I attacked the Vulkin.." Chara said in between sobs.

Frisk sighed, "Chara... why? You've been doing so well." She was sad that Chara had actually hurt the poor monster. She had hoped that maybe it was some freak accident, but from the looks of it, she wasn't so sure.

"I.. I saw Sans.." Chara said.

"What? Sans isn't here?" Frisk said looking around.

"He was here! And he was going to kill me!" Chara yelled, making Frisk jump.

_***Ring Ring*

>

>Frisk checked her Caller I.D.

_*Alphys is calling*

>

>"Right now?" She looked around, and then opened her phone and selected speaker.

"F-frisk! Chara!" Alphys said.

"What is it Alphys?" Frisk said.

"I saw Chara suddenly attack a V-vulkin... I w-was so scared, but she was screaming something a-about Sans... and he wasn't even there.." Alphys said, her voice shaking.

Chara started to tear up again from Alphys talking about her.

"What do you mean Alphys?" Frisk asked, still confused about the whole situation.

"W-well. Chara was walking towards the p-puzzle room, when all the sudden, they stopped moving and passed out. I-I was so worried, I almost called you!" Alphys said.

Chara was confused, she didn't remember passing out.

"Before I had the chance, she got b-back up, and stood there, t-talking to a Vulkin as if it were Sans.." Alphys said, sounding shaky again. "A-and then, she suddenly rushed the Vulkin and attacked it! I was so s-scared!"

Chara couldn't believe what she was hearing. She didn't know she passed out, all she could remember was Sans saying awful things to her, and her going to attack him, when... she attacked the Vulkin instead.

"...Thank you Alphys." Frisk hung up before Alphys could say anymore. She held tightly onto Chara. "Is what she said, true?"

"Frisk! I didn't know! I swear! I swear! Please don't hate me!" Chara began to cry uncontrollably now.

"Is what she said true." Frisk said harshly.

Chara began to explain her side of the story, Frisk listening expressionless.

When Chara finished explaining, she looked to Frisk for a response, but didn't get one. Frisk didn't even look at her. Chara was worried.

"Frisk... please say something.." Chara said, tears till streaming down her face.

Frisk looked at Chara, noticing her face was red and tears were still pouring down her face, her normally rosy red cheeks were now replaced with just red from her crying. Frisk wiped some tears away, and held Chara's face in her palms.

"Chara, please calm down." Frisk said, brushing some of Chara's hair to the side. "The Vulkin is okay, you made a mistake, it's fine Chara, I forgive you." Frisk truly did forgive Chara, but was disappointed.

Chara's breathing started to regularize again. "Really? You don't hate me?" She sniffled.

Frisk hugged Chara tight. "It's gonna take a lot more than this to make me hate you, don't worry." Frisk rubbed Chara's back.

Chara calmed down more and smiled, relieved Frisk didn't hate her. "Why are you so nice to me, Frisk?"

Frisk had to think for a moment, but tried not to think too long, to not upset Chara. "We've been through a lot Chara, and this little bump in the road isn't going to make me just hate you." She kissed Chara and the forehead, and looked her in the eyes. "I will always love you, no matter what."

Chara smiled. "Me too Frisk!" She pushed Frisk over in a half hug, half tackle.

Frisk stared into Chara's eyes. Those beautiful, Crimson eyes that pierced her SOUL. Whenever Frisk looks at her eyes, she gets a feeling of warmth within her.

>Chara stared at Frisk, smiling widely. She loved this girl so much. She didn't deserve her, but was happy she had her.

"I still feel awful... Is there anything I can do to make it up to you?" Chara said.

Frisk smiled, she had an idea. "Kissing me wouldn't be bad.." She said, giving Chara a cute look.

She didn't need to be told twice, and leaned down and started the kiss. Frisk's lips were soft.

Chara released the kiss quickly, but Frisk wasn't ready for it to end. She giggled and wrapped her arms around Chara's neck and pulled her down. Chara giggled and kissed her again.

Chara started running her hand through Frisk's hair. She wanted entrance into Frisk's mouth and started to lick her lips, making Frisk surprised letting go of the kiss.

"No?" Chara breathed out.

Frisk smiled and pulled her in for another kiss, and stuck her tongue in Chara's mouth.

Chara loved how soft Frisk's lips were against her own. Frisk let out a soft moan, and Chara could feel her hot breath against her skin, sending tingles throughout her body. She wanted more, and released herself from Frisk's mouth and moved to her neck, kissing her softly.

Frisk was trying to be quiet, and tried hushing her moans, but every now and then she'd let one slip, blushing widely while Chara smiled.

Chara kept kissing up and down Frisk's neck until she found her sweet spot in the crook of her neck, every time she kissed it, it sent waves of pleasure through Frisk. Chara started to get more excited, and tried biting Frisk's neck, softly, as not to hurt her.

Frisk loved the feeling of the soft bites, as couldn't hold in the whimpers and soft moans. "Chara.." Frisk said, barely able to speak at this point. She was rubbing her hands on Chara's back. When Chara finished, she moved back to Frisk's mouth, wanting more kisses herself.

The two kept kissing for an hour, not wanting to let go.

Meanwhile, while they had forgotten in the heat of the moment, Alphys was watching and fangirling back at her Lab. It eventually got to much for her and she had to leave.

Chara finally stopped kissing Frisk and laid down next to her, breathing heavily.

"Best kiss yet." Frisk said, she couldn't control her smile.

Chara sat up, "So, forgive me?"

Frisk sat up too, "Of course Chara. I love you."

"I love you too."

Frisk stood up, and helped Chara up, taking her hand. "Let's go solve that puzzle and get out of here."

"Can't wait." Chara said.

17. Chapter 17: Muffet

It didn't take long for the two to figure out the puzzle, but it did take them a few tries. They left the building together, and proceeded to walk to the giant door. Chara didn't even complain about the vents.

The giant door slowly swung open, and the girls walked in.

The area they walked into was similar to the last one, but it was darker. The carpet on the ground changed from a light red to a to a purple-pink-ish color on the outlines, and black for the walkway. Chara started to walk forward while Frisk looked around, and walked into cobwebs.

"EW!" Chara screamed, swatting away the webs.

Frisk started to laugh.

"Don't laugh at me Frisk!" Chara yelled.

"Lots of spiders live here, Chara, of course there is going to be webs!" Frisk said, still giggling.

"I didn't know that! I would've been more careful!"

Frisk realized that Chara didn't remember everything about the Underground's many areas, as she did. "Hey!" Frisk said, remembering something, "Muffet lives here!"

Chara finished getting the webs off her, and smiled. "Really? Well let's go see her!" She grabbed Frisk's hand and started running towards a purple-pink-ish colored building.

They saw that the building entrance had a spider web blocking it. On closer inspection, the web spelled out: NO HUMANS. The girls were confused.

Frisk never ran into this on her last run, and it confused her, but she knew they had to get past this, or they'd never make it out of Hotland.

Chara looked at the writing and assumed that it was old. Maybe this was for humans in the past, that didn't like spiders. She had been super nice to Muffet awhile ago, so she assumed there was no way this message was directed at her or Frisk.

"We have to destroy the web here." Frisk said. "But how?"

Chara pulled a stick out from her inventory, and waved it across the web, catching all the webbing on the stick, and removing it from the door. The girls walked in.

>"Smart!" Frisk said, grabbing Chara's hand.

The inside was dark, barely illuminated by a faint, light, reflecting off the hundreds of cobwebs that hung from every direction. The girls walked in, and heard a voice.

>"Ahuhuhu..." Laughed a woman's voice from the ceiling.

Chara and Frisk continued to walk, Frisk holding Chara close.

"Did you hear what they just said?" The voice echoed. "They said two humans wearing stripped shirts would come through."

Chara and Frisk noticed a giant web in front of them, and it looked like the only path, so they stepped on it. Walking on it wasn't easy. The giant web stuck to their feet, making them slow.

"I heard they hate spiders. I heard that they love to stomp on them." The voice said. Chara noticed it was Muffet's voice.

The girls tried to traverse the giant web, and became slower and slower, until finally they couldn't move anymore and became trapped in the web. Chara tried to free herself by flailing around, and Frisk remained calm. She squeezed Chara's hand, and looked at her. Chara calmed down, and looked around.

"I heard.." The voice said. Suddenly, a gigantic web, appeared out of nowhere, suddenly illuminated, revealing Muffet sitting in the middle, along with a bunch of much smaller spiders. "That they pretend to be friendly and then stab you in the back." Muffet said, looking directly at Chara.

Chara was shocked by the news. "What? What do you mean Muffet?"

Frisk was confused too, she didn't remember this the last time she fought Muffet.

"Well, my dearies~" Muffet said, pouring a glass of Spider Cider for herself. "I think you will be better off as a tasty treat for my spiders! And your SOULS are exactly what this next batch of goodies needs!" She laughed.

A battle sequence started.

* * *

>Chara and Frisk were trapped in the web, unable to move away.

Muffet stood up in her web, showing her fangs. She looked mad at the two, but they didn't know why. "Don't look so blue my dearies~" She said. Spider venom dripped from her mouth, a bright purple color.

Frisk felt something hit her shoulder and looked over, and saw a drop of purple. She looked up and saw the roof was full of spiders, baring their teeth, purple venom dripping from their mouths. Frisk gasped and covered her face.

Chara noticed Frisk's gasp and looked up, seeing the venom droplets making their way to them. She copied Frisk and covered her face.

The venom dripped on Chara and Frisk, burning slightly with every droplet hitting their delicate skin. Frisk winced with pain, while Chara stood there, not noticing the pain. She was too focused on wondering why Muffet was doing this to them, after being so nice before.

When all had seemed to calm down and Frisk could no longer feel venom dripping on her, she looked up and uncovered her eyes to see Muffet giggling at them, she looked at Chara, and noticed her SOUL was a shade of purple now. She looked at her own SOUL and saw the purple.

Muffet flashed a smile with her fangs. "I think purple is a _much _better look on you! Ahuhuhu~"

Chara and Frisk saw three purple webs, and Frisk knew she could move on those. She brought out a toy knife from her inventory, that she only picked up for an emergency, and cut herself from the webs entrapping her. She moved to Chara and cut her out, and the knife disappeared from Frisk using it. "To the purple webs Chara! We can move on them because our SOULS are the same color!" Frisk said, jumping on the webs.

Chara followed, and jumped on the web. She noticed it was in a set of three, but she didn't know why.

Muffet sent a wave of spiders on the web, all about half as big as the girls. They bared their teeth and scuffled towards them quickly.

"Chara! Jump on different webs to avoid the spiders!" Frisk yelled, jumping out the way of one.

Chara looked to see the spider closing in on her, and she instinctively jumped out of the way, landing on the web next to her.

The girls' text box appeared and Frisk selected MERCY, as did Chara, but reluctantly, her hand skimming over the FIGHT option momentarily.

"Muffet! Why are you doing this?" Chara asked, as she sent more spiders towards them.

"Dearie~" Muffet said sweetly. "If you keep evading, you won't be a sweet treat!"

Frisk avoided the spiders coming towards her and yelled, "Who told you we hated spiders?"

"That is none of your concern!" She spat out.

Spiders stopped rushing her, and began to throw Spider Donuts at them, glazed in venom. They were surprisingly bouncy, and sprung from web to web, the girls having to be careful where they jumped. Muffet giggled at their struggling.

"Your SOULS are going to make every spider in the Underground very happy!" She said.

"Muffet, please, tell us why you are mad!" Chara said, not paying attention to the spiders rushing her. One got close and bit her, and scurried away. Chara yelled in pain, her HP was now 16/20.

"Chara!" Frisk yelled, jumping towards Chara's web.

Chara was holding on to her side. It was burning from the spider poison, but Chara decided to deal with the pain.

"Chara, are you okay?" Frisk said, obviously worried.

Chara smiled, happy Frisk was concerned. "I'm fine, focus on the spiders!"

Frisk smiled, she knew Chara was tough.

Chara looked up at Muffet who had a look of worry in her eyes. When Muffet noticed they she was looking, she looked away.

>Muffet remembered something and giggled. "Oh my! How rude of me, I forgot to introduce you to my pet!" She giggled more, as a giant spider, twice as big as Chara or Frisk, in the shape of cupcake started rising out from the webs. More purple webs began to form on top of the girls.

"Chara! We have to climb, or we'll be dead for sure!" Frisk said, jumping on the first web on top of her.

Chara looked at the giant monster spider below her. It's body looked like the wrapper for a cupcake, and it had sprinkles across its head. It was opening and closing its mouth, as if it was preparing to eat her. She jumped up and grabbed the web, and began to climb. Spiders began to run on the webs trying to knock into the girls. They climbed around them, jumped out of their way. As they reached the top of the webs, the cupcake spider got tired and fell asleep below them.

"Why don't you quit avoiding my dearies~" Muffet said, sounding somewhat sad. "It'll just make it easier on us all."

Chara looked at Muffet questioningly. Noticing Muffet looked away when she tried to look at her.

"Muffet, please." Chara started. "What happened to helping me make that pretty dress?" Chara said, trying to tug at Muffet's heart strings.

Muffet's sad look returned as she gazed into Chara's eyes. "Chara... I'm..." She began to say. "I'm sorry I had to be this way." She continued, as more spiders and donuts rushed towards them.

The cupcake spider woke up beneath the girls and let out a roar, icing, rather than venom, coming from its mouth. It began to climb slowly towards them again, and Frisk looked up to see more purple webs forming. "Chara! Let's move!" She yelled.

Chara followed her and they began to climb again. This time, the spiders didn't run across the webs, but stayed in one place trying to block their passage. They had to climb strategically, as the spiders placed themselves to where only a small gap remained.

Below them, the cupcake spider began to get tired again and fell asleep. The girls stopped climbing up.

Frisk was getting tired and tried to catch her breath, when suddenly a donut hit her. She winced in pain. 18/20. She applied a band-aid and recovered her health.

>Chara decided to try to talk with Muffet again. "Muffet, if you told us why you were doing this, we could try to fix this!"

"No! You can't fix this, you spider killers!" Muffet yelled at her, tears starting to form in all her eyes.

Frisk and Chara both looked at her confused. Frisk looked around to notice the spiders stop moving, just staring at them, with anger and judgment in their beady eyes.

>Frisk was the first to speak up. "What do you mean? We haven't killed any spiders!"

Muffet's sad expression was replaced by one of anger. "Don't lie!" She snapped at them. "Someone came and told me the truth about you two after you left my stand! You are liars and back stabbers!"

Chara was taken aback by the sudden outburst. The spiders started to make hissing noises at the two.

"What are you talking about? Who told you those things?" Frisk said.

Muffet looked at them, and thought for a moment. "No one that I know, but they said back in the RUINS where some of my spiders live, you two stomped on them and treated them awfully!" Muffet said.

"Muffet please listen!" Chara said. "We never hurt any spider in the RUINS, in fact, we bought a couple of pastries from them!"

A small spider ran up to Muffet and mumbled something that the girls couldn't hear. The spider handed Muffet a folder containing purchases made in the RUINS, and sure enough, Chara and Frisk's name was included. Muffet stared in disbelief.

"But... If you two treated them nicely... What about the things I heard?"

"They were lies!" Frisk said. "We are nice people Muffet, and we want to be your, and all the spiders' friends." Frisk said calmly.

Muffet started to tear up again. She looked at the girls. "I'm so sorry.." She said, using two of her hands to wipe away some tears.

The battle sequence ended.

>Chara and Frisk's SOULS suddenly regained their red color, and Muffet walked over to them. She hugged Chara, making her flinch, from the pain from the poison in her side, but she hugged her back.

"Thank you Muffet.." Chara said.

"My dearie, I should've known. But when I was told that, I became so angry, I couldn't help myself." Muffet still had tears in her eyes. She let go of Chara and wiped them away.

"Who told you those terrible things?" Frisk said.

"Well, as soon as you two left, a small _talking flower _appeared and told me you two where bad news. He told me about all the things you two do to spiders, and how you were trying to be my friend so you could hurt me, but seeing you against all of my spiders, you didn't hurt a single one, even when they attacked you. You must be good people." Muffet said.

Frisk's eyes widened. "...talking flower.." She said quietly, so only she could hear.

"Must have been an echo flower Sans warned us about, huh Frisk?" Chara said.

"Y-yeah." Frisk said nervously.

Chara began to explain to Muffet about Echo Flowers, and the warming their friend gave them.

"That must be what it was." Muffet said. Chara and Frisk agreed, but Frisk was worried, she knew exactly what Muffet was referring to. Frisk hadn't told Chara about Flowey yet, as she could never find the right time. She knew she'd have to tell eventually.

They said their goodbyes to Muffet. "Please come back any time dearies~" she said. "We'll make that dress too Chara, I promise!" The girls left the spider lair.

>Outside they saw a poster of a show Mettaton was going to put on.
"Star Crossed Lovers"

According to the poster, the show was just about to start. They walked forward and saw a stage set.

"Ready for a show Darlings?" A familiar robot voice was heard somewhere in the set.

"Not again..." Chara said.
